Retouren boekhandels - Retours libraires – Returns policy booktrade

Alle aankopen worden beschouwd als vaste aankoop tenzij anders overeengekomen en als dusdanig vermeld op de factuur. Retouren zijn enkel mogelijk na drie maanden en voor 9 maanden en kunnen enkel gebeuren na voorafgaandelijke, schriftelijke aanvraag. De retourtoelating blijft één maand geldig en dient bij de retour gevoegd te worden. De retour gebeurt op risico van de klant en worden enkel aanvaard als ze ons in perfecte staat bereiken. Creditbedragen worden in mindering gebracht van nog te betalen saldi of toekomstige aankopen. Indien Exhibitions International buiten haar wil in de onmogelijkheid is om zelf het recht van retour in te roepen, onder meer bij faillissement van een uitgever of wanneer het boek in kwestie uitverkocht is gemeld, vervalt het recht van retour ook voor de klant en kunnen er geen retouren meer aanvaard worden van de betrokken publicaties.

Tous les achats sont considérés comme achat en compte ferme sauf accord mentionné sur la facture. Une demande de retour doit impérativement nous être adressée au préalable, par écrit. Il n'est cependant possible de retourner que les ouvrages livrés depuis un minimum de 3 mois et un maximum de 9 mois. L'autorisation de retour reste valable pendant un mois et doit être jointe lors de l'envoi du colis. Le retour se fait aux risques et aux frais du client. Seuls les retours arrivés dans un état impeccable seront acceptés. Les notes de crédits établies suite à la réception d'un retour de marchandises seront déduites des montants redevables des livraisons précédentes ou des commandes à venir. Dans le cas où Exhibitions International est elle-même et indépendamment de sa volonté dans l'impossibilité de faire valoir sa faculté de retour, entre autres pour cause de faillite d'un éditeur, ou si la publication en question a été annoncé comme épuisé, le client ne bénéficiera plus non plus de la faculté de retour et dès lors, plus aucun retour de cet éditeur, ou de cette publication ne pourra être accepté.

All orders are considered concluded sales and cannot be returned, unless otherwise stated. Returns can only be accepted after a written request to our office. The approval should be included in the shipment and is valid for one month. Returns are on the risk and costs of the customer. All books must arrive in mint condition. Shopworn or price-stickered books will not be accepted or credited. Titles cannot be returned before 90 days and after 9 months. Credit balances apply against future purchases only. In the event that Exhibitions International is itself and irrespective of its will, unable to assert its right of return, inter alia because of the bankruptcy of a publisher, or if the publication in question has been announced as being out of print, the customer will no longer benefit from the option of return and therefore no further returns from this publisher or this publication will be accepted.

Artworks, manuscripts, printed works and wildlife sound recordings come together in this major compendium of the greatest and strangest representations of animals on record.

Rich, newly photographed, illustrations bring these works to life, while interactive QR technology will allow readers to listen to recordings of the sound exhibits as they read. Expertly edited, this powerful collection of objects prompt us to consider the increasing importance of technology and data to our understanding of humanity.

For two millennia the Bible has inspired the creation of art. Within this legacy of remarkable art and beauty, illuminated biblical manuscripts offer some of the best evidence for our understanding of early Christian painting and artistic interpretations of the Bible. Compiled and written by two internationally renowned experts, this beautiful book immerses the reader in the world of illuminated manuscripts of the Bible. Through its pictures we are transported across 1,000 years of history...

William Tyndale famously declared, 'The boy that driveth the plough shall know more of the scripture than [an educated man].' Though forbidden by the Church to translate the New Testament into English, Tyndale's determination resulted in its finally being printed in Germany in 1526. Smuggled into English ports in bales of cloth, the book was a monumental success. This complete, carefully reproduced facsimile edition, created from 1 of only 2 complete copies of the 1526 edition held in the British Library...

101 - MANUSCRIPTS

In previous studies, Jan Strybol pointed out that sculpture in Northern Nigeria - contrary to what is generally assumed - flourished.

Wood sculptures could be found just about everywhere, with the exception of a part of the Far North. In this study, the author first examines the sculptural traditions of a number of peoples in Central Nigeria, in particular from the Jos Plateau and from the valley of the Middle Benue to the source area of the Taraba River. These peoples can be described as non-centralized communities where mainly art in perishable materials was produced by part-time specialists, in contrast to the centralized empires in the South (Ife, Benin) where full-time specialists created complex works of art in durable materials (stone, bronze, iron).

Perhaps the most well-known ethnic group in the Middle Benue region among aficionados of African art are the Mumuye. Since the end of the last century, the traditional rites of the Mumuye have rapidly disappeared as a result of the advance of the world religions and with them the Mumuye sculpture so much admired in Europe and America. In addition to wood sculpture, Jan Strybol also pays attention to objects in bronze, iron, terracotta and other materials. Until now, these art forms have been very underexposed and have now almost completely disappeared. Finally, the author also elaborates on some artistic achievements of a number of little-known residual groups within the Mumuye territory, which can boast a rich art tradition.

AFRICAN ART

WEBSITE: <https://www.exhibitionsinternational.be/documents/catalog/9789462303317.xml>

Although considered the cradle of mankind, the most recent history of the African continent has long been shrouded in mystery. Without leaving any written records, many civilizations rose and disappeared again, only leaving majestic works of art as witnesses of their greatness. Most of these forgotten cultures were only rediscovered throughout the 20th century, often by accident, and scholarship has been struggling to put the puzzle pieces of the last millennia of the African continent back together.

Dit boek wil de verschillende fasen van de constructie van de gebouwen en van hun ebruik in het Jubelpark in Brussel belichten - van 1880 tot vandaag. Standbeelden en monumenten, maar ook de geschiedenis van de grote instellingen die er gevestigd zijn, worden besproken in tekst en beeld. Het verhaal van wereldtentoonstellingen wordt er gekoppeld aan de geschiedenis van België en aan het dagelijkse leven in het park de dag van vandaag, aan de hand van vele onuitgegeven documenten. Jacqueline Guisset is doctor in de kunstgeschiedenis en auteur van verschillende publicaties.

Op de tentoonstelling Expeditie Egypte worden een tweehonderdtal objecten uit haar beroemde Egyptische verzameling samengebracht. De blikvangers van de tentoonstelling zijn onder meer de rijkelijk versierde sarcofagen uit de priesterlijke cachette van Deir el-Bahari, en het prachtig geïllustreerde dodenboek van de hoogwaardigheidsbekleder Neferrenpet. Daarnaast wordt een groot aantal opmerkelijke stukken uit de verzameling voor het eerst tentoongesteld. Voorwerpen zoals grafstèles, canopenvazen voor de ingewanden van de overledenen, en shabti-beeldjes die de doden vergezelden in het hiernamaals, maken de bezoekers wegwijs in de Egyptische godenwereld en het eeuwige leven. Tenslotte wordt de tentoonstelling ook rijkelijk voorzien van uniek historisch fotomateriaal. Deze reis doorheen de tijd wordt op meerdere plaatsen aangevuld met artistieke interventies van Sara Sallam (°1991, Caïro). De kunstenaar exploreert de Egyptische culturele identiteit van vandaag en bevraagt de geschiedenis en erfenis van de egyptologie.

106 - ARCHAEOLOGY

In het begin van de 20ste eeuw ondernamen de Belgische Egyptoloog Jean Capart en zijn medewerkers verschillende reizen naar Egypte. Met een passie voor fotografie documenteerden zij het land aan de Nijl in al zijn facetten. De Egyptologische bibliotheek van de Koninklijke Musea voor Kunst en Geschiedenis in Brussel herbergt deze belangrijke collectie van ca. 14.000 fotografische glasnegatieven. De meer dan 200 foto's die hier zijn geselecteerd schetsen het verhaal van deze pioniersjaren van de Belgische Egyptologie. Ze geven eveneens een caleidoscopisch beeld van het Egypte van weleer, met dramatische landschappen, eeuwenoude monumenten, archeologische expedities en het dagelijkse leven in al zijn verscheidenheid.

De site van Villers is beroemd om haar indrukwekkende, negentiende-eeuwse ruïnes van een middeleeuwse cisterciënzerabdij.

Nadat de Franse revolutionaire administratie in 1796 de kloostergemeenschap opheft en de eigendommen als nationaal goed verkoopt, herleidt de nieuwe eigenaar de site tot verkoopbaar bouw materiaal. De natuur overwoekert de stenen restanten. Los van spijt over wat zo verloren gaat, creëert het verval een omgeving die intrigeert.

Het Museum werd opgericht in 1898, en werd gekenmerkt door vele symbolen die de koloniale propaganda van die tijd weerspiegelen. Een belangrijke uitdaging bij de renovatie van 2013-2018 was om het geklasseerd gebouw te dekoloniseren. Er werd gekozen om de beelden en symbolen te laten dialogeren met werk van hedendaagse Afrikaanse kunstenaars.

103 - 19th CENTURY ART

Women and men - strong, proud, tragic or beautiful - from the heyday (1765-1865) of Japanese printmaking are this book's subject. It seeks to dig below the surface of the prints to describe the often subtle iconography employed in these masterful creations by the most famous artists of their time. It begins with Suzuki Harunobu's subdued and introverted scenes of women seated on verandas. The book then moves on to the spectacular 'big face' (okubi-e) portraits of prostitutes and Kabuki actors by artists like Kitagawa Utamaro, Toshusai Sharaku and Utagawa Kunimasa. Frail 'streetwalkers', forced by circumstance into the lowest ranks of prostitution, are transformed into elegant beauties, obscuring their tragic existence. The spectacle of heroes from Japan's rich mythological and pseudo-historical past crowd the printed sheet. Stern-faced actors drawn by the confident hands of Utagawa Toyokuni and his pupil Kunisada demonstrate the economy of line and powerful expression of the woodblock medium.

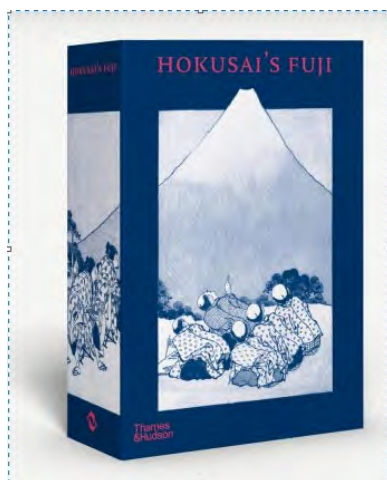

Each print is explored in the finest detail in order to explain the riddles of Ukiyo-e -the intriguing and captivating mode of visual expression that would have such a profound influence on Western art.

The Riddles of Ukiyo-e Women and Men in Japanese Prints 1705-1865

Hokusai's Fuji

Hokusai's Thirty-six Views of Mount Fuji and the three volumes of his subsequent One Hundred Views of Mount Fuji show his fascination with a single motif: Mount Fuji. Hokusai's near-obsession with Fuji was part of his hankering after artistic immortality - in Buddhist and Daoist tradition, Fuji was thought to hold the secret to eternal life, as one popular interpretation of its name suggests: 'Fu-shi' ('not death').

Publié à l'occasion des 100 ans de la découverte de la tombe de Toutankhamon et des 200 ans du déchiffrement de la pierre de Rosette, ce livre répond à un engouement et une curiosité toujours considérables pour l'Égyptomanie. Ce concept renvoie à un imaginaire collectif suscité par le songe, qui a été nourri tout au long des XIXe et XXe siècles par les fouilles archéologiques et les grands voyages.

this book presents a comprehensive exploration of Black self representation through portraiture and figuration, celebrating Black subjectivity and Black consciousness from Pan-African and Pan-Diasporic perspectives.

With a primary focus on representational painting, it celebrates how artists from Africa and the African diaspora have imagined, positioned, memorialized and asserted African and African diasporic experiences during a 100-year period spanning from the early 20th century to the present.

For generations, Black artists from the American South have forged a unique art tradition. Working in near isolation from established practices, they have created masterpieces in clay, driftwood, roots, soil, recycled and cast-off objects that articulate America's painful past - the inhuman practice of enslavement, the cruel segregationist policies of the Jim Crow era, and institutionalised racism.

Het pad naar artistieke roem lijkt te zijn geplaveid met schandalen. Veronese wist maar ternauwernood te ontsnappen aan de klauwen van de inquisitie, Rembrandt schoffeerde zijn klanten en Andy Warhol schilderde soepblikken, omdat hij daar zin in had. Wim T. Schippers zorgde ervoor dat er in Museum Boijmans van Beuningen een penetrante pindakaasgeur hing, Banksy haalde een van zijn duurste werken door de papierversnipperaar en Maurizio Cattelan plakte met ducttape een banaan op de muur van Art Basel.

Mr. Huntington developed an abiding love both of Hispanic culture. He resolved to devote his considerable fortune to combining these passions, and carried out his project so resourcefully that the collections he assembled remain exceptional for their depth and richness.

Their scope ranges from the prehistoric era to the early 20th century, including antiquities, decorative arts, Islamic works, manuscripts and rare books as well as superb canvases by Old Masters such as El Greco, Velázquez and Goya.

In oktober 1711 opende het Theater van het Tapissierspand zijn deuren. Het was de eerste grote schouwburg van Antwerpen. Meer dan een eeuw lang konden de Antwerpenaren er terecht voor bals, concerten, theater en bovenal opera. Tal van fascinerende acteurs, actrices en musici traden er ooit op. En het theater was het decor voor belangrijke ontvangsten. Tot het Theater van het Tapissierspand in 1829 moest plaatsmaken voor de Bourlaschouwburg. Dit cahier neemt de lezer mee naar de verdwenen opera van Antwerpen.

Hugo van der Goes (c. 1440-1482) was the most important Netherlandish artist of the second half of the 15th century. His innovative pictorial compositions are characterised by monumental figures and realistic narrative moments. They paved the way for the development of Netherlandish painting during the following centuries. Hugo van der Goes worked in Ghent and in the Red Cloister near Brussels. His works were admired by his contemporaries and were copied countless times until well into the 17th century. This modern monograph pays tribute to the character and importance of his numerically modest works. It juxtaposes his great altarpieces with more intimate panels, drawings and miniatures as well as works from his immediate circle. Lavishly illustrated and competently explained, the publication creates a comprehensive overview of the creative oeuvre of a magnificent artist.

Le Musée Jacquemart-André met à l'honneur en mars 2023 l'oeuvre du peintre Giovanni Bellini, père de la peinture vénitienne, ayant ouvert la voie à cet art de la couleur et du ton qui fit la gloire de la Sérénissime. Ce catalogue d'exposition entend démontrer à travers environ une cinquantaine d'oeuvres (peintures, dessins, sculptures) comment Giovanni Bellini s'est à la fois ouvert à de nombreuses influences tout en conservant une part indéniable d'originalité.

I01 - OLD MASTERS (Belgium)

Het rijk geïllustreerde kunstboek De Vlaamse meesters: van Van Eyck tot Bruegel beslaat bijna anderhalve eeuw schilderkunst, van omstreeks 1430 tot de dood van Pieter Bruegel de Oude in 1569.

Vlaamse Meesters. Van van Eyck tot Bruegel opent opnieuw de ogen voor de revolutie die in de 15e en 16e eeuw in de Lage Landen plaatsvond en de koers van de Europese kunst bepaalde. In 48 rijkelijk geïllustreerde analyses onderzoekt Matthias Depoorter hoe schilders als Van Eyck, Van der Weiden, Massys, Bosch en Bruegel ongekende hoogten bereikten.

De bepalende factor was hun perfectionering en beheersing van de olieverftechniek, evenals hun baanbrekende aandacht voor optische lichteffecten. De nieuwe technische mogelijkheden boden een andere manier van kijken naar de wereld en uiteindelijk een nieuwe manier van schilderen. Niet minder vernieuwend was het detailniveau. Deze schilders kenden elkaars werk door en door - dit boek toont de fundamentele artistieke kruisbestuiving. Een must-read voor iedereen die opnieuw verliefd wil worden op de oude meesterwerken.

Depuis 1921, les Musées royaux des Beaux-Arts de Belgique possèdent une Présentation de la Vierge au Temple, attribuée au Maître à la Vue de Sainte-Gudule. Il s'agit d'un fragment d'un ensemble, dont récemment la Fondation Roi Baudouin a pu acquérir pour les Musées trois autres fragments. Ce Cahier dévoile une vision totalement renouvelée de l'activité du Maître à la Vue de Sainte-Gudule, l'un des peintres les plus productifs dans la capitale des ducs de Bourgogne.

101 - OLD MASTERS (Belgium)

Theodoor Rombouts (1597-1637) was een gevestigde waarde in het Antwerpse kunstenaarsmilieu van zijn tijd. Na zijn artistieke opleiding bij Abraham Janssen migreerde hij aan het begin van de 17de eeuw naar Italië. Daar liet hij zich inspireren door de revolutionaire schilderkunst van Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio en diens belangrijkste navolgers uit Italië, Frankrijk en de Lage Landen.

Terug in Antwerpen ontwikkelde hij een geheel eigen artistieke identiteit. Rombouts wist invloeden uit Noord en Zuid op virtueuze wijze te versmelten en specialiseerde zich succesvol als caravaggistisch figuurschilder in monumentale genrevoorstellingen. Rombouts' huidige relatieve onbekendheid staat in schril contrast met het respect en de waardering die tijdgenoten als Peter Paul Rubens en Anthony van Dyck voor hem als schilder hadden.

Dit boek, het eerste boek ooit over Theodoor Rombouts, ontsluit zijn artistieke persoonlijkheid en brengt een nieuwe kijk op zijn werk.

Delft was in de zeventiende eeuw een broedplaats van talent, een plek waar belangrijke innovaties plaatsvonden. Hier groeide Johannes Vermeer uit tot een schilder van wereldformaat. Er is niet veel bekend over Vermeer. Deze rijk geïllustreerde publicatie toont wat er wél te ontdekken valt in het Delft van Vermeer. Inzicht in het artistieke, intellectuele en sociale klimaat in het zeventiende-eeuwse leven van Delft krijgen we via sleutelfiguren uit Vermeers leven.

Sofonisba Anguissola (ca. 1532-1625) is een van de meest succesvolle kunstenaars van de renaissance en wordt door haar tijdgenoten geprezen om haar talent en creativiteit. Ze wordt omschreven als 'la piu illustre Pittrice d'Europa': de beroemdste vrouwelijke schilder van Europa. Haar figuren zijn levensecht, haar stofuitdrukking is meesterlijk en haar vernieuwende composities worden door de belangrijkste hoven van Europa bewonderd. In haar eigen tijd wordt Anguissola omschreven als een wonder.

101 - OLD MASTERS

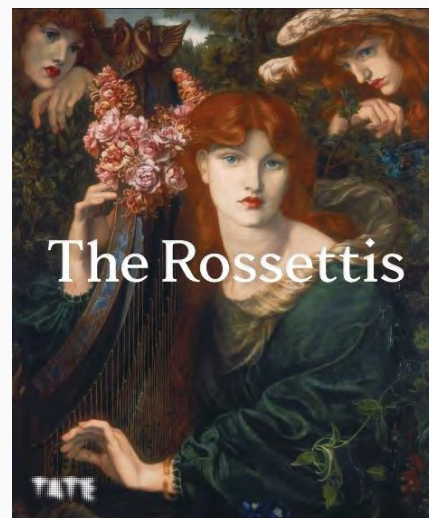

A visually stunning book devoted to the radical Rossetti generation. The Rossettis' approach to art, love and lifestyles are considered revolutionary. This is explored by a range of short thematic essays containing fresh, and surprising research, accompanied by beautiful and iconic Pre-Raphaelite illustrations. Featuring artworks and writings by Dante Gabriel, Christina and Elizabeth (née Siddal), the book distinguishes the Rossettis from Victorian culture and foregrounds their countercultural roles.

The Rossettis' approach to art, love and lifestyles are considered revolutionary, and this will be thoroughly explored in an immersive show, using spoken poetry, drawings, paintings, photography, design and more.

The publication accompanies the first retrospective of Dante Gabriel Rossetti at Tate and the largest exhibition of his iconic pictures in two decades, and what will also be the most comprehensive exhibition of Elizabeth Siddal's work for 30 years, featuring rare surviving watercolours and important drawings.

The Rossettis will take a fresh look at the fascinating myths surrounding the unconventional relationships between Dante Gabriel Rossetti, Elizabeth Siddal, Fanny Cornforth and Jane Morris.

Deze publicatie is een uniek en indrukwekkend overzicht van de schilderijen en tekeningen die Vincent van Gogh maakte in de laatste zeventig dagen van zijn leven.

Tijdens deze intense, productieve periode die voorafging aan zijn zelfverkozen dood op 29 juli 1890, vervaardigde Van Gogh maar liefst 74 schilderijen en ruim 30 tekeningen. In deze publicatie wordt de tijd die Van Gogh doorbracht in Auvers-sur-Oise, nabij Parijs, voor het eerst minutieus beschreven.

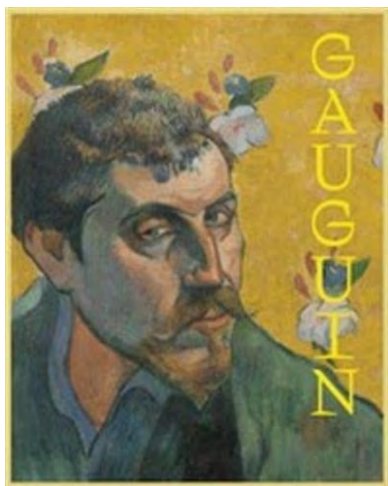

We volgen de kunstenaar vanaf zijn aankomst in het dorp, waar hij hoopvol en met nieuwe ambities aan het werk gaat, tot zijn laatste weken, waarin gevoelens van mislukking, eenzaamheid en melancholie de overhand krijgen maar hij desondanks krachtige werken blijft maken.

Celebrated as one of early Modernism's most important figures, but at the same time condemned for his work and character, Gauguin's legacy remains ambiguous. The discussion about his art and character has become even more relevant with #MeToo drawing attention to his relationship with under-age girls as well as his share in colonialism in French Polynesia. Nevertheless, Gauguin's status as an artistic genius has remained mostly undisputed.

Recent research on late impressionism has highlighted the surprising correspondences between the work of impressionist paragon Claude Monet and that of abstract painters such as Mark Rothko.

This book offers an unprecedented dialogue between the paintings of Monet and Rothko, two artists who explored the frontiers of abstraction. It explores the uncanny similarities between their works, painted almost half a century apart, as well as the significance of the differences between the master artists' styles.

Edvard Munch occupies a pivotal place in artistic modernity. His work is permeated by a singular vision of the world, with a powerful symbolist dimension that goes beyond the masterpieces he created in the 1890s, and which gives his art a great coherence. For Munch, humanity and nature were united in the cycle of life, death and rebirth, which is reflected in the unending recurrence of certain motifs and colour combinations in his work.

These sketchbooks have an extraordinary story behind them, created as they were in 1942, Alfred Wallis's final year, when he lived in the Penzance poorhouse. They shine new light on his contribution to the development of modern art in Britain. A Cornish mariner and scrap metal dealer, he was self-taught and started to paint in around 1925 following the death of his wife three years earlier.

For the first time, the complex, symbiotic ecologies that sustained the practices of two of the 20th-century's greatest painters are revealed. With a shared rootedness in the natural world and its wondrous life forms, the work of af Klint and Mondrian celebrates the numinous spiritual power of nature and how this gives both art and life meaning. Including works never before seen in the UK, this publication will elucidate and invigorate our understanding of two ground-breaking artists...

Auguste Rodin (1840-1917) was already an old man when the young poet Rainer Maria Rilke went to interview him for the first time. Rilke stayed on to work as Rodin's secretary. Intensely sensitive to art, and in particular to the irreducible power of objects, and yet able to express this awareness in prose of great lyricism and clarity, Rilke was destined to be the critic who would most naturally dramatise Rodin's work.

Mysticism and esoteric speculation runs through the writings of some of Sweden's most important figures, from the 18th-century scientist, theologian and philosopher Emanuel Swedenborg to the turn of the 20th-century with August Strindberg, known as a novelist and playwright, but who was also involved in alchemical experiments, occult photography and proto-expressionist paintings that verge on abstraction. In the same period we find visual art by visionaries such as Carl Fredrik Hill, Ernst Josephson a.o.

Rond 1900 behoorde de Antwerpse kunstenaar Eugeen Van Mieghem tot de Europese avant-garde. In dit boek beschrijft de auteur hoe na vijf jaren van artistieke stilte de kunstenaar rond 1910 opnieuw deelnam aan de jaarlijkse exposities van de Antwerpse vereniging Kunst Van Heden. Op hun salons werden soms ensembles getoond van belangrijke buitenlandse kunstenaars. Vooral het oeuvre van Jean-Louis Forain leek Van Mieghem te inspireren in zijn composities over het uitgaansleven in de Antwerpse binnenstad.

Hoe lukt het de jonge kunstenaar Kees van Dongen om door te breken in Parijs en in korte tijd uit te groeien tot één van de meest beroemde kunstenaars van de twintigste eeuw? Deze vraag staat centraal in dit boek. Van Dongen behoorde tot de voorhoede van Nederlandse kunstenaars die rond 1900 vernieuwing zochten in Parijs. Daar ontmoette hij de avant-garde en in 1905 nodigde Picasso hem uit om in atelier Le Bateau-Lavoir, in Montmartre, een ruimte te betrekken.

Léon Spilliaert (1881-1946) was een autodidact die werd gevormd door het contact met de literatuur van zijn tijd en die overtuigd was van zijn roeping als uitverkoren kunstenaar, waarin hij aan Nietzsche doet denken.

Hij was de maker van een bijzonder origineel oeuvre geïnspireerd door metafysische vraagstellingen en de Vlaamse cultuur, en bijna uitsluitend op papier gemaakt. In een mix van grafische technieken zoals Oost-Indische inkt, potlood, zwart krijt, pastel, kleurpotloden en ook aquarel en gouache knoopte de Oostendenaar banden aan met het symbolisme en expressionisme van zijn tijd en leek hij in zijn meest radicale, uiterst vereenvoudigde landschappen de geometrische abstractie en het minimalisme aan te kondigen.

Anne Adriaens-Pannier is wereldwijd Spilliaertexpert en heeft al ontelbare publicaties op haar naam staan gewijd aan de Oostendse kunstenaar. Zij cureert ook de expo in Lausanne.

Cette exposition réunit une quarantaine d'artistes et de photographes, de la Belle Époque à la seconde guerre mondiale, dont les itinéraires artistiques ont emprunté les routes de l'ailleurs, de l'Afrique à l'Himalaya. Un nouveau contexte, celui des premiers mouvements féministes, encourage les femmes à s'affirmer hors de l'espace domestique, et promeut l'image d'une « femme nouvelle » actrice de son destin.

The Morandi's works in the Catanese collection are a microcosm of the artist's oeuvre, thanks to the number of works, their chronological spread covering almost all the years of the artist's activity, the techniques used to create them, their themes, their place in collecting history and, most importantly, their artistic importance, rendering the collection well suited for deciphering and understanding Morandi's work.

De allereerste expressionistische beweging van Nederland ontstond omstreeks 1914 toen een groep jonge kunstenaars geïnspireerd raakte door de internationale avant-garde die steeds vaker te zien was in Nederland. Ook het werk van Vincent van Gogh, Paul Cézanne en Henri Le Fauconnier werd in ons land getoond op spraakmakende tentoonstellingen.

An absorbing group biography revealing how exiles from war-torn France brought Surrealism to America, helping to shift the centre of the art world from Paris to New York and spark the movement that became Abstract Expressionism. Surrealists in New York tells the story of this 'liaison' and the European exiles who brought Surrealism with them - an artistic exchange between the Old World and the New - centring on taciturn printmaker Stanley William Hayter and the legendary Atelier 17 print studio he founded.

Hét referentiewerk over het futurisme en de Europese avant-garde bewegingen. De tentoonstelling en het boek onderzoeken en tonen voor het eerst de grote invloed van het futurisme op de belangrijkste avant-garde stromingen in Europa tijdens het interbellum: Bauhaus in Duitsland, L'Esprit Nouveau in Frankrijk, het Russische constructivisme en De Stijl in Nederland.

De tentoonstelling kondigt zich aan als een absolute Europese toptentoonstelling. De eerste grote tentoonstelling over het futurisme na "Italian Futurism, 1909-1944: Reconstruction the Universe" in New York in 2014 - met 600.000 bezoekers de best bezochte tentoonstelling in de geschiedenis van het Guggenheim Museum.

Het Italiaanse futurisme, geboren in 1909, streeft naar een radicale verjonging van de cultuur, waarin de dynamiek van de moderne samenleving tot uitdrukking komt. Een zoektocht naar een nieuw allesomvattend esthetisch ideaalbeeld in al zijn verschijningsvormen: schilderkunst, architectuur, theater, mode, film, beeldhouwkunst, interieur, design, publiciteit, grafiek kortom een 'totaalkunst' in alle aspecten van het dagelijkse leven.

Dit prachtig geïllustreerde boek is geen biografie en geen fotobiografie, maar eerder een visueel - en bijwijlen aandoenlijk - naslagwerk waarin de lezer binnentreedt in de wereld van Mondriaan als mens en als kunstenaar.

Het boek volgt Mondriaan op zijn artistieke reis, vanuit Nederland, naar het bruisende Parijs van de jaren 1920 en 1930 en uiteindelijk naar New York, waar hij in 1944 zou overlijden. Iconisch zijn Mondriaans ateliers - met hun witgeschilderde muren en kunstig aangebrachte kleurvlakken zelf bijna kunstwerken. De vele foto's ervan, vaak door beroemde fotografen, zijn net zo fascinerend als die van de gasten die Mondriaan er ontvangt, eveneens vaak beroemde kunstenaars.

Mondriaans sterk geprofileerde imago en zijn persoonlijke "styling" vormen een andere visuele verhaallijn, hoewel in het boek ook vele nooit eerder gepubliceerde snapshots met vrienden te zien zijn tijdens reizen, vernissages en etentjes. De vele honderden foto's, voorzien van gedetailleerde bijschriften, en de rijk geïllustreerde essays over de ontwikkeling van fotografie in de context van Mondriaans werk maken van dit boek een uniek en waardevol historisch document.

An essential visual overview. For two centuries, the city-republic of Siena was home to a brilliant succession of painters who produced some of the greatest masterpieces of all time. This overview by Timothy Hyman is an essential introduction to this extraordinary artistic tradition. Taking a broadly chronological approach, it moves from the 14th C. Siena of Duccio, Simone Martini, and the Lorenzetti brothers to the 15th C. city of Sassetta and Giovanni di Paolo.

Marc Chagall (1887-1985) is regarded as the poet amongst modernist artists. His works from the 1930s and 1940s are less well known. In them, his bright colour palette became darker. Even in the early 1930s, Chagall addressed the increasingly aggressive anti-Semitism and touched in his artistic works on central themes such as identity, homeland and exile. In over 100 haunting paintings, works on paper and costumes, the volume traces the artist's search for a pictorial language...

Edward Hopper is one of the bestknown American artists of the 20th century. His works are regarded as the epitome of a representation of American life. This catalogue casts a fresh look at Hopper's oeuvre and analyses it in a dialogue with works by the old masters. In 1916, Georgia O'Keeffe wrote to Alfred Stieglitz that she had "made [a] drawing several times - never remembering that I had made it before - and not knowing where the idea came from." These drawings, and the majority of O'Keeffe's works in charcoal, watercolor, pastel, and graphite, belong to series, in which she develops and transforms motifs that lie between observation and abstraction.

Door Cobra kunstwerken naast die van andere, niet aan Cobra gelinkte kunstenaars te plaatsen, ontstaan nieuwe dwarsverbanden in stijl, zeggingskracht of betekenis. Door Appel naast Picasso te plaatsen, maar ook heel dichtbij een relief van Schwitters.

De Engelse kunstenaar Henry Moore (1898-1986) is zonder twijfel een van de belangrijkste en bekendste beeldhouwers van de twintigste eeuw. Centraal staan hier Moore's inspiratiebronnen en de wijze waarop hij zich liet leiden door de aard van de materialen die hij gebruikte. In het boek worden niet alleen topstukken uit zijn oeuvre getoond, maar ook door Moore in de natuur verzamelde voorwerpen en studies in klei en gips. Die vormden de aanzet tot zijn beroemde monumentale beelden in hout, steen of brons.

Pierre Culot (1938-2011) était un céramiste/sculpteur belge. Formé par Antoine de Vinck et le maître potier anglais Bernard Leach, Pierre Culot fait partie de la génération de céramistes des années 1950, qui ont transformé leur métier en une forme d'art. L'argile qu'il tourne, moule en plaques, gratte et émaille se transforme en récipients d'usage courant à la présence majestueuse.

Max Weber studied under Matisse, associated with influential figures including Apollinaire, Picasso, and Delaunay, and is credited with bringing firsthand knowledge of the Parisian avant-garde to Alfred Stieglitz's modernist circle in New York, inspiring a generation of artists. While his works are in important collections, they have not yet received the close study of the artist's peers, such as Picasso, Braque, and Leger.

From politics to religion, psychology to nuclear physics, learn how Dalí's work embraces nearly every major historic development of the twentieth century. Although Salvador Dalí's characteristically provocative behavior and bizarre pictorial language made him an outlier in high society, his body of work reflects his century's most important innovations and concerns.

Het boek zoomt in op het werk en leven van de recent overleden Belgische kunstenaar Renée Demeester (1927–2022). Aan de hand van ongepubliceerde teksten en foto's, en in samenwerking met haar familie, brengt het onderzoeksteam van het museum hulde aan een leven dat volledig gewijd was aan kunst. De monografie werd rijkelijk geïllustreerd met schilderijen en tekeningen. Het boek is uitgegeven naar aanleiding van een gelijknamige tentoonstelling in het Magritte museum.

Philip Guston paintings -particularly the liberated and instinctual forms of his late work- continue to exert a powerful influence on younger generations of contemporary painters. The classic, intimate memoir of the artist by Guston's daughter, with a new afterword by Mayer Philip Guston (1913-80) is one of the outstanding figures in 20th-century American art. Beginning as a muralist in the 1930s, Guston embraced the lyrical vocabulary of Abstract Expressionism in his paintings and drawings after his move

The publication Mapping the World provides an overview of the artistic work of the American artist Matt Mullican over the past fifty years. Matt Mullican is considered one of the pioneering representatives of the so-called Pictures Generation, which in the mid-1970s examined the influence of mass media images on everyday perception and thus declared them to be an integral part of artistic debates.

Thanks to Marcel Duchamp, we know that everything can become art and that there is no limit to thinking here. The first comprehensive exhibition in two decades shows Duchamp's works from all creative phases from 1902 to 1968. Through his early work of Post-Impressionist paintings, his caricatures and involvement with Cubism, to his iconic Readymakes, Duchamp's thinking is revealed. He created works with a persistent precision and stubborn anarchy peculiar to him, which only find their completion through us as viewers. In this way, the work changes with us and in time.

Drawing on the avant-garde movements of both Expressionism and Surrealism, the women of Abstract Expressionism redefined artistic practice as an immersive arena for action, process and consciousness. Their paintings were regarded not as images but as events. Although the movement officially began in mid-century USA, it quickly – through myriad means – spread around the world and became a catalyst for redefining ideas around aesthetics, poetry, philosophy and politics. Including works by 40 artists.

Between 1984 and 1985, Jean-Michel Basquiat (1960-1988) and Andy Warhol (1928-1987) created around 160 paintings together in tandem, à quatre mains, including some of the most remarkable works produced during their respective careers. Keith Haring (1958-1990), who witnessed their friendship and collaboration production, would go on to speak of a "conversation occurring through painting, instead of words," and of two minds merging to create a "third distinctive and unique mind."

Dynamic and forward thinking this unconventional retrospective monograph takes its cues from Alice Neel's life and work- at once intimate, powerful, and bursting with color. Alice Neel was one of the great American painters of the twentieth century and a pioneer among women artists. A painter of people, landscape and still life, Neel was never fashionable or in step with avant-garde movements. "One of the reasons I painted was to catch life as it goes by," she explained, "right hot off the griddle."

'Jan Van Imschoot. The end is never near' biedt een uitgebreid overzicht van het oeuvre van de Belgische schilder Jan Van Imschoot (1963, Gent, België). Van Imschoot studeerde schilderkunst in Gent, de stad waar hij woonde en werkte tot hij in 2013 naar Frankrijk verhuisde. Opvallend zijn de directheid van zijn figuratieve stijl, de uitgesproken penseelvoering en het evenwichtige en stoutmoedige gebruik van kleur. Jan Van Imschoot kiest bewust voor een heldere, soms tegenstrijdige en ironische taal.

« L'oeuvre d'Angel Vergara (1958, Mieres (Espagne), vit et travaille à Bruxelles) est une recherche constante sur le pouvoir de l'image. À travers des performances, vidéos, installations, tableaux et dessins, il teste les limites de l'art et de la réalité. Il s'interroge sur la manière dont l'image contemporaine façonne les domaines public et privé interconnectés, et donc notre propre réalité. Chaque oeuvre est une tentative de traverser l'image et de produire un impact sur différents plans.

Wie een oorlog meemaakt, is er voor altijd door getekend. Raoul Servais (Oostende, 1928), de internationaal bekroonde Belgische filmmaker en animator, maakte als jonge gast de Tweede Wereldoorlog mee. Hij ontsnapte een paar keer aan de dood. Daarnaast groeide hij via de verhalen van zijn moeder en zijn ooms op met herinneringen aan de Eerste Wereldoorlog. Beide oorlogen bepaalden het leven van Servais.

De Bruyckere's sculptures are testimonies to unique emotional depth. They touch with their vulnerability and melancholy, ranging between vitality and death, harmony and deformation, figurativeness and abstraction. They bear witness to visible and perceptible processes of transformation in human and animal life. Berlinde De Bruyckere endows them with an almost sacral aura.

In her work, the artist abundantly explores ancient mythologies and Christian themes and adapts them to the present...

Leen Voet verwerkt elementen uit visuele en literaire bronnen met subtiele humor in schilderijen, installaties en tekeningen, die ze systematisch in reeksen samenbrengt. Vanuit een voyeuristische blik op het leven, de schilderkunst en het kunstenaarschap, reflecteert Voet over stereotypen, het lokale, de autonomie van het individu en over oorsprong en herkomst. Haar stijl balanceert op de grens van het picturale en wordt gekenmerkt door levendige kleuren, afgelijnde kleurvlakken en geometrische vormen.

En 2019, les artistes Maxime Berthou et Mark Požlep entreprennent un voyage de plusieurs mois sur le Mississippi, du nord au sud. Leur intention est de traverser les États-Unis en suivant leur voie navigable la plus importante, débordante de vie et marquée par l'histoire, mais aussi par le abus: du racisme, du chômage et de la pauvreté à la monoculture en passant par la pollution. Au fil du fleuve, ils tournent des images de leurs rencontres, également documentées par des croquis et des notes dans leur jour

Brett Charles Seiler lives and works in Cape Town, South Africa, where he also graduated from the Ruth Prowse School of Art in 2015. Seiler's work has elements of painting, installation, and object art, with a strong emphasis on the use of text and language. His themes are sexual interaction, oppression, homosexuality, gender, men. Originally from Zimbabwe, a state where human rights violations are commonplace, his work also makes a mark in the struggle for equal sexual orientation.

Luc Tuymans' aim was to create pertinent images during the global pandemic. The artist explores issues of history and memory as well as the relationship between photography and painting, using a muted palette to create canvases that are at once withholding and disarmingly stark. Drawing on imagery from photography, television and film, his distinctive compositions make ingenious use of cropping, close-ups and framing, offering fresh perspectives on the medium of painting as well as on broader cultural issues

This book explores the variety of ways in which contemporary artists from around the world have come to approach drawing as the primary, sometimes the sole, element of their practice, and one which is autonomous: an end in itself rather than a means to an end in another, more substantial medium. In an era of advanced technologies where image production has accelerated - potentially beyond the capacity of human attention - what values can be attributed to the slow, deliberate process of drawing by hand?

Lang voordat de rooms-katholieke kerk de kruisweg formaliseerde in 14 staties spiegelde mensen hun eigen lijden al in dit aloude beeldverhaal van de lijdensweg van Jezus.

Hoewel al meerdere decennia sprake is van een gestage ontkerkelijking blijven de kruisweg en het laatste avondmaal onverminderd hun zeggingskracht behouden. David Bowie, Salvador Dali, Barnett Newman, Dan Flavin, Andy Warhol, Jorge Luis Borges, Peter Howson, Damien Hirst en Sophie Calle behoren tot de vele die geïnspireerden.

Ai Weiwei is best known as an artist, activist and public figure. But he is almost unique in the way he glides across disciplinary boundaries: into architecture, design, collecting and curating. In Spring 2023, a retrospective on Ai Weiwei will open at the Design Museum. This is the first exhibition to examine Ai's relationship to design, architecture and the city. To accompany this exhibition, a catalogue of the same title will explore Ai's practice as artist, architect, designer and collector.

Having become widely accessible as a consumer technology in the 1960s, video is ever-present today—on our phones and our screens, defining new spaces and experiences, shaping our ideas and politics, and spreading disinformation, documentation, evidence, fervor. Signals: The Politics of Video charts the ways in which artists have both championed and questioned the promise of video, revealing a history that has been planetary, critical, and activist from its very beginnings.

Brätsch's artist's book shows on 72 pages the reproduction of a marbling with the same title in a scale of 1:1. Brätsch realized the paperwork, which measures 274x182cm, together with the artisan Dirk Lange. For this, paint was dripped into a water bath in an elaborate process, which was then absorbed by a sheet laid over it. The work, which is characterized by the rich detail of digital renderings and on which one can make out a skull with an open cap, shimmers between abstraction and representation.

A world tour of the very best street photography today, Reclaim the Street showcases work by more than 100 contemporary photographers, from the established to the emerging, from all corners of the globe: here is work by Indian practitioner Swarat Ghosh, Thai photographer Jutharat Pinyodoonyachet (aka Poupay), and the Brazilian photographer Gustavo Minas.

Truly diverse in scope, it pays long overdue attention to flourishing scenes throughout the world, interweaving thirty-four photographer portfolios, in-depth case studies, and surveys of the geographical hotspots where communities of street photographers are thriving today.

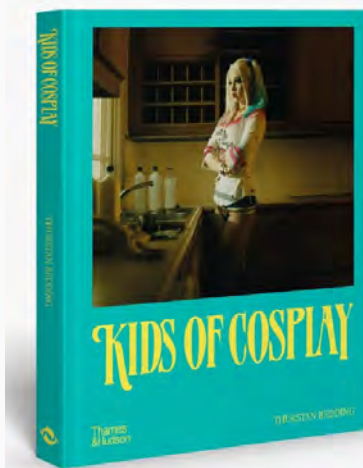

Great photographic minds don't think alike, nor are two streets identical: follow these photographers as they capture snapshots of people and places perpetually in flux.

The global, and ultimately optimistic and humanistic edge of Reclaim the Street will deepen its readers' love of photography, as well as leave them inspired by the places and people captured through today's sharpest lenses.

Voor het eerst verschijnt een overzicht waarin een selectie van het werk van het kruim van de Belgische street artists en graffiti artists gepresenteerd wordt.

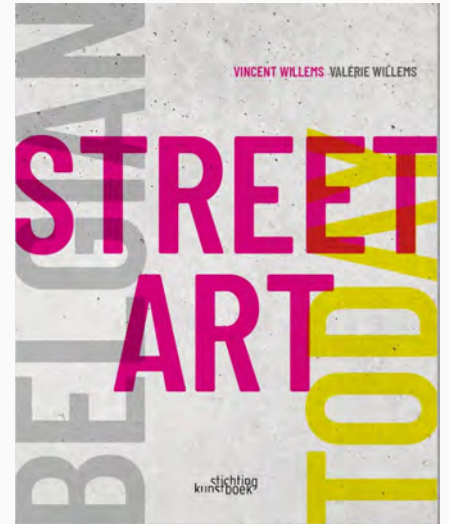

Vijftig zorgvuldig geselecteerde namen waarvan een groot aantal reeds wereldwijd wordt opgepikt: Roa, Djoels, Dzia, Jaune, Mata One, 2 Dirty, Bué The Warrior, Zenith...

Een aantal van onze beste artiesten zijn trouwens heel vaak in het buitenland aan het werk; enkelen worden door prestigieuze buitenlandse galerijen vertegenwoordigd.

Allen worden in dit prachtig geïllustreerde boek voorgesteld. Deze selectie wordt voorafgegaan door een korte historiek van street art en een nooit eerder gepubliceerd uitgebreid overzicht van street art projects en street art & graffiti walks in België. Een must have dus, voor kunstliefhebbers op zoek naar insider tips en unieke experiences.

Fotograaf Vincent Willems heeft gedurende meer dan twee jaar België doorkruist op zoek naar de meest spectaculaire interventies en murals. Het resultaat is verbluffend!

The most comprehensive and detailed study and representation of the Tai people, with stunning photographs and beautifully presented case bound. This lavish, large format art project is the culmination of 20 years research of Tai culture throughout Southeast Asia, beginning with Napajaree Suanduenchai's vast 1,500 piece silk collection which has remained private until now. All 230 photographs were shot on sheet film to bring out the most intricate details of the textiles. Over the last 20 years, Mrs. Suanduenchai and photographer Hans Roels visited all the major Tai subgroups in their towns and villages to document their weaving traditions, culture and individual stories – their belief of who they are and where they came from. Roels' photography captures both the intricacy of the Tai weaving arts as well as the people behind the textiles. As of 2022 at least 75% of the villages that Suanduenchai and Roels visited no longer produce traditional Tai textiles, leaving the reader as the last eye-witnesses to a spectacular culture.

I09 - DECORATIVE ARTS

We live in a single-use society, where fashion is fast, disposability is the norm and it is easier to replace than to repair. We don't need to mend things anymore – and yet we do. What is it about Homo faber – man the maker – that cannot resist fixing what is broken? As we start to decouple from the linear take-make-waste model that has dominated Western economies since the Industrial Revolution and seek something more circular, an enquiry into what mending means has never been more urgent.

As one of the key players of modern jewellery in the '20s, Paul Brandt worked with the most famous jewellers of his time, like Fouquet or Sandoz. He followed eclectic studies in Paris (jewellery, painting, sculpture, medals and stones engraving, chiselling, etc) and finally decided to specialise in jewellery design. With his first creations he joined the art nouveau movement before focusing on an art deco style. This monograph displays the talent of this major artist who left his mark in France and abroad.

An eye-opening publication that contrasts perceptions of luxury - together with its positive and negative connotations - in imperial Persia, democratic Athens and the Hellenistic world between 600 and 200 BCE.

Luxurious objects are celebrated for their exoticism, rarity and style, but also disparaged as indulgent, extravagant and corrupt. The ancient origins of these attitudes emerged at the boundary between the imperial Persian and democratic Athenian Greek worlds.

1796 - the official end of the reign of the Qianlong emperor - is viewed as the end of the 'high Qing' and the start of a period of protracted crisis. In 1912, the last emperor, Puyi, abdicated after the revolution of 1911, bringing to an end some 2,000 years of dynastic rule and making way for the republic. Until recently the 19th century in China has been defined as an era of cultural stagnation. Built on new research, this book sets out a fresh understanding of this important era.

Discover the stories of 100 women and men whose activities in the 19th century laid the foundations of modern China. This book sprang from a simple but original ambition: to provide an understanding - told through the lives of 100 significant individuals - of how China transformed from dynastic empire to a modern, republican nation during the period 1796 to 1912. Both famous and surprisingly little-known women and men are brought together in eight thematic sections that illuminate the birth of modern China.

It is generally accepted that the European Renaissance began in Italy. However, a historical transformation of similar magnitude also took place in northern Europe at the same time. This 'Other Renaissance' was initially centred on the city of Bruges in Flanders (modern Belgium), but its influence was soon being felt in France, the German states, England, and even in Italy itself.

Voor Les (Dés)Habilleuses, liet fotografe Eva Rossie zich inspireren door genderrollen en het Kasteel van Laarne. Kamer per kamer worden de vroegere bewoners van het kasteel visueel onderzocht door haar eigen lens. Daarbij fungeert de kleedster als spilfiguur: de panoptische bewakingscamera avant la lettre die tegelijk in een kwetsbare positie zat. Er wordt gespeeld met het contrast tussen zij die bedekken en blootgeven, zij die alles zien en horen, zij die klein gehouden worden en zij die vriendelijk bedanken voor de ketenen van het keurslijf. Rossies personages ondersteunen een hedendaagse kijk op de invulling van gender, zonder de geschiedenis uit het oog te verliezen. Want het is net deze geschiedenis die dienst doet als uitgangspunt om op zoek te gaan naar een alternatieve, hedendaagse blik op wat mensen mogen en kunnen zijn. Het resultaat zijn gelaagde foto's die aandoen als filfilmstills met een kwetsbaar randje.

Het werk dat in dit boek aan bod komt ontstaat wanneer Wessels het wonderlijke universum van traditionele garages ontdekt: ze raakt gefascineerd door de vormen en kleuren van de mysterieuze en onbekende voorwerpen die ze er aantreft. Wessels trekt vervolgens de wereld rond om in exotische garages poëtische stillelevens te creëren met haar analoge camera.

Harry Gruyaert was a pioneer of European colour photography in the 1970s and 80s. In 1972, he created TV Shots, a series of images created by turning the dial on a television set at random and photographing the screen. Later he travelled the world, seeking out different kinds of light and exhibiting a particular fascination with borders, interfaces and incongruous juxtapositions. A member of Magnum Photos since 1982, he describes colour as 'a means of sculpting what I see ... it's the emotion of photography

In 1984, Tria Giovan moved to a tenement building on Clinton Street in New York City's Lower East Side. Over the next six years she wandered the streets photographing as if in a foreign land. Loisaida, as some knew it, was as gritty, authentic and humble, as it was exotic, vibrant and colorful. The melding cultures and humanity she encountered inspired these photographs. Giovan left the neighborhood and the work behind in 1990 and the negatives languished until the pandemic.

Photojournalist, war correspondent, model and Surrealist muse, Lee Miller was one of the most important women photographers of the twentieth century, working in the fields of photojournalism, fashion portraiture and advertising. This book presents over 100 of Miller's finest works in a single volume. Introduced to photography at an early age, Lee Miller honed her craft in Paris, where she associated with the Surrealists and avant-garde artists including Jean Cocteau and Picasso.

Considered one of the greatest exponents of staged photography, Gregory Crewdson has drawn a portrait of middle America, enclosed in the intermediate spaces of modest-sized cities, an America with eyes wide open towards the lights of a dream in exhaustion, already exhausted, already dilapidated. This book brings together for the first time the trilogy conceived between 2012 and 2022. It unfolds an unprecedented vision of a decade of creation and reveals the intimate and political sides of the universe ...

The photographer and visual artist Erik Johansson creates surreal worlds through his own unique method. It often takes him months just to make one image, in a process where his photographs are combined so that an original place emerges. The result is often humorous, sometimes even scary, but always mind-blowing. Erik Johansson has become world-famous through his captivating and detailed images. This is his biggest book so far, presenting almost a hundred of his best images in large format.

The book contains over one hundred pictures, including Joel's most iconic photographs as well as new and previously unpublished material. This comprehensive visual biography testifies to the author's continuing evolution throughout the six decades of his career and discusses his work in relation to his personal life, to the history of photography, and to the incessant transformation of the medium. Meyerowitz reveals anecdotes, personal memories, and the story behind many of his famous photographs.

For his latest project, Henrik Spohler traveled to the Netherlands on five extended trips in 2020/21, totaling 7,500 km. On these journeys he looked at this country in the heart of Western Europe from the perspective of an outsider. Flatlands is a photographic examination of landscape in the very country, where the genre of landscape painting was developed in the seventeenth century.

My personal collection of glamour and fashion photography by prominent Schirmer/Mosel authors. Evolved during my 49 years of publishing, I'm presenting it to the public for the first time. A firsthand - or should I say: firstview? - collection, so to speak. I was always close to the material and the people when selecting the works: commercial photography of fashion, publicity portraits of actors, erotic pictures, and glamour shots. First, I collected them for myself, now I've assembled them for you, with a note by Isabella Rossellini. See for yourself!

She studied photography with Ernst Haas in Vienna, Simon Guttman in London, and Henri Cartier-Bresson in Paris. In 1955, Robert Capa recruited her for MAGNUM. Associating with intellectuals, artists, and actors, she created memorable portraits and also produced photo reportages from Europe, Africa, the Middle East, Russia, and China. Exclusively for MAGNUM she took pictures on many film sets such as Marilyn Monroe's last movie The Misfits, written by Arthur Miller, Marilyn's then husband.

Founded in 1992, Die Photographische Sammlung/SK Stiftung Kultur in Cologne ranks among the world's finest archives of high-end objective, documentary photography created between 1860 and 2010.

The collection holds several thousand glass negatives and vintage prints by August Sander along with large bodies of works by Karl Blossfeldt and Albert Renger-Patzsch. Another highlight is the Bernd & Hilla Becher archive supplemented by works of their prominent students.

Portraiture is another focal point. Starting with Sander's People of the 20th Century, the collection holds portraits created by artists from Hugo Erfurt to Diane Arbus. Botany and landscapes (as by Jim Dine), architecture and industry (Boris Becker, Petra Wittmar) are represented as well. Walker Evans, William Christenberry, and Stephen Shore cover pivotal American positions.

An unprecedented volume of photography from the Condé Nast Archive, illustrating the history, art, and fashion of their famous magazine brands. Chronorama: Photographic Treasures of the 20th Century is an impressive photography volume curated by Condé Nast. Chrono-referring to space-time-and rama-referring to sight-are the cornerstones of this notable art record that depicts the third decade of the 21st century, a decade that had the potential to be another Roaring Twenties, and during which, Condé Nast Publications experienced meteoric growth.

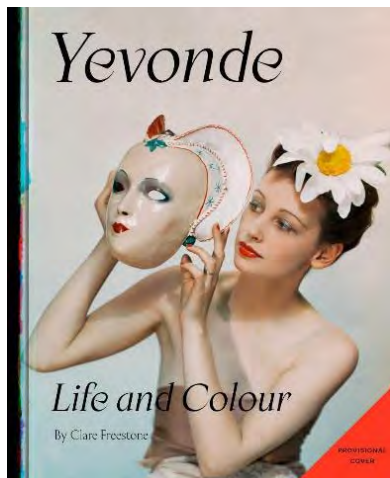

Taken from the pages of Vogue, Vanity Fair, House & Garden, GQ, and Glamour, the nearly 400 stunning original vintage prints and illustrations within this tome are by top photographers - resulting in an unprecedented showcase of some of the most important works ever to be produced for the magazine page.

Organized by decade, the book opens with the 1910s and ends with the 1970s, and the backstories of each decade are told through the art and historical context of the times, firmly situating the prevalence of the works in the minds of the readers. An exclusive collection of full-color, vivid, exquisite, and memorable images, Chronorama is not only a landmark in the history of photography and illustrated books, but also a pivotal time in the history of fashion, design, and the arts.

Yevonde (1893-1975) was a businesswoman and tireless creator, as an innovator committed to colour photography when it was not considered a serious medium, her work is significant in the history of British portrait photography. Yevonde championed photography during a time where there were few women photographers working professionally, and this book tells the story of her life, works, and 60-year career.

Mário Macilau's long term project Faith documents the practice of animism (the belief that everything has a soul or spirit) within traditional religions in contemporary Mozambique. It reflects local and yet diverse conceptions of God and the cosmos and how ancient Mozambican traditions are preserved. Mário Macilau (b.1984) started his journey into photography from the streets of Maputo. His career began when in 2007 he traded his mother's cell phone for his first camera.

Armenian monasteries - places of longing and timeless monuments of faith.

Stone and Candle is a long-term photographic project examining the ancient monasteries of Armenia. The publication covers forty monastic structures, distributed over the whole of the country, and several in the disputed territory of Artsakh, with the majority dating from the 4th century to 13th century. These monasteries, some of the earliest of the Christian world, were centers of education, where art and science flourished.

Documenting a vanishing world of Japanese jazz culture. Japanese jazz bars and coffee shops are insular worlds where time ceases to exist, removed from the speed and chaos of the modern urban landscape.

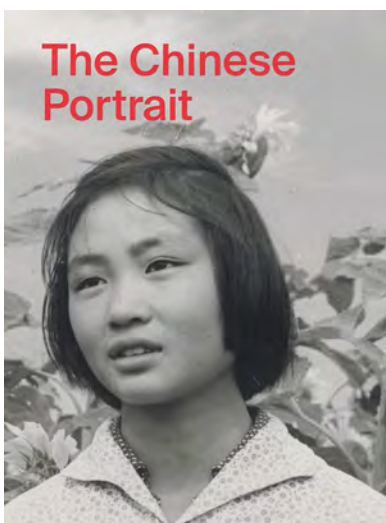

Tokyo Jazz Joints is a visual chronicle of this unique culture that captures the transient beauty of these spaces. Established in 2015 to document Tokyo's myriad Atjazu kissatenas, the project has gradually expanded to cover the whole of Japan.

On ne présente plus Eugène Atget (1857-1927), le célèbre photographe autodidacte qui immortalisa le « Vieux Paris » au tournant du XXe siècle. Pourtant cet ouvrage aborde l'homme et l'artiste sous un jour inédit. Il relate ses liens avec Libourne, sa ville natale. Il laisse la parole à des photographes actuels qui éclairent le lecteur sur la fascination qu'exerce encore aujourd'hui ce personnage.

This beautifully designed volume, conceived by Naomi and her daughters, Nina and Lisa, marks the first publication of the family's exceptional collection, which is focused on work that combines aesthetic considerations with humanist values. The photographers represented range from pioneers like Alfred Stieglitz, Margaret Bourke-White, Dorothea Lange, Lewis Hine, Paul Strand (the subject of Naomi Rosenblum's doctoral dissertation), and her husband, Walter Rosenblum, to acclaimed contemporary practitioners.

Dans une approche résolution transversale faisant dialoguer images anciennes et contemporaines, au cœur des grandes thématiques de la photographie, portraits, scènes de la vie quotidienne, visions de l'enfance, exploits sportifs, instants volés, paysages somptueux ou plus anodins, du XIXe au XXe siècle, l'ouvrage croise les paroles et les regards d'artistes et d'observateurs, considérant le sujet représenté comme un instant de ce qui a été.

In 1906, J. P. Morgan commissioned Edward S. Curtis to produce a series of books depicting Native American life. Edward S. Curtis Portraits contains over 250 of the project's beautiful and haunting portraits. Talented photographer Edward Sheriff Curtis set out on the project with the goal of becoming a successful portrait artist, but as he worked taking photographs of the "vanishing Indian," he discovered a calling as an ethnographer and embarked on a mission to document every aspect ...

Having been tempted to read French philosopher Guy Debord's landmark text, Theory of the Derive, (drift), acclaimed actor and photographer Jessica Lange set out any given day with no destination, no purpose in mind, and observed and engaged in (photographed) what prompted her. The results of these excursions and purposeful, intellectual drifting are gathered in this volume: gloriously empty streets, perfectly poised individuals, vivid chiaroscuro..

Terry O'Neill is one of the world's most celebrated and collected photographers. No one has captured the frontline of fame so broadly - and for so long. For more than 50 years, he has photographed rock stars and presidents, royals and movie stars, at work, at play, in private. He pioneered backstage reportage photography with the likes of Frank Sinatra, David Bowie, Sir Elton John and Chuck Berry and his work comprises a vital chronicle of rock and roll history.

Brigitte Bardot is arguably the most familiar face in French cinema and one of the most loved stars of the 20th century. She is recognised the world over for her work in film, as a singer, and as an animal rights activist. The photographers Douglas Kirkland and Terry O'Neill both worked with Brigitte Bardot at the peak of her fame in the 1960s and early 1970s, photographing the star on set and behind the scenes on films including The Legend of Frenchie King aka Les Petroleuses, Shalako and Viva Maria.

Originating from the Latin for deity or goddess, the term diva has evolved to become a far more complex - and loaded - term. Delving into the public and private personas of performers from Jenny Lind to Sarah Bernhardt, Nina Simone to Rihanna, this book looks at what it means to be a "diva" and how this has been subverted and embraced over time. Kate Bailey opens the book with an essay on the transformation of the diva from 19th-century opera and stage star to 20th-century silent screen siren.

Relationships presents a selection of 100 iconic fashion photographs and portraits. Avedon had the opportunity to photograph a number of his portrait subjects on more than one occasion. Within the catalogue it is possible to see painter Jasper Johns in 1965 and 1976; novelist Carson McCullers in 1956 and 1958; the Beatles Andy Warhol, Marilyn Monroe, and poet Allen Ginsberg in 1963 and 1970. Perhaps the most dramatic and powerful example: his photographic relationship with Truman Capote.

In 2020, an extraordinary trove of nearly a thousand photographs taken by Paul McCartney on a 35mm camera was re-discovered in his archive.

They intimately record the months towards the end of 1963 and beginning of 1964 when Beatlemania erupted in the UK and, after the band's first visit to the USA, they became the most famous people on the planet.

The photographs are McCartney's personal record of this explosive time, when he was, as he puts it, in the 'Eyes of the Storm'.

As one of the most successful fashion houses in existence, Chanel owes much to the templates first laid down by its founder - Gabrielle 'Coco' Chanel (1883-1971). Some of her most celebrated designs, such as the two-piece suit, the little black dress and the quilted handbag, remain in vogue to this day. Chanel designed first and foremost for herself: by creating clothes fit for an independent and active lifestyle, she anticipated the needs and wants of the modern woman.

For over a century, the name of Chanel has been inextricably linked to elegance, modernity and fashion innovation. It was Chanel who single-handedly made striped jerseys and loose trousers chic, costume jewellery desirable, the little black dress the height of sophistication, and tweed suits a staple of every stylish woman's wardrobe. In this revised and updated book, dress historian Amy de la Haye celebrates Gabrielle 'Coco' Chanel as the couturiere who changed the way stylish women everywhere dress.

In the 1970s, despite not yet knowing each other, Azzedine Alaïa and Arthur Elgort were about to go down the same path. The former realized that fashion had changed: it was now no longer so much in the salons that fashion had to be appreciated but in the street.

The latter, Arthur Elgort, then a young photographer for the English edition of Vogue, was in the process of establishing a new vision of photography. His snapshots would soon define a lighter, more informal photographic style of great spontaneity.

This long collaboration is now the subject of an upcoming exhibition in Paris at the Fondation Azzedine Alaïa running from January 22 to June 29 2023 and the accompanying monograph, entitled Freedom, which presents more than 150 timeless classic black-and-white pictures

The iconic dress that has stood the test of time.

Contemporary yet classic, the little black dress never goes out of style. Popularized by Coco Chanel in the 1920s, the style freed women from the corset and became the epitome of liberation. Dubbed the 'Ford of fashion' by American Vogue, it was simple, stylish and affordable – 'the frock that all the world will wear'.

- Pioneer of abstraction - Avant-garde art, fashion, and design - Unseen designs and sketches - The Fabric of Modernity.

Sonia Delaunay's work appears today as fresh and relevant as ever. The modernist pioneer's ingenious color patterns dissolved the boundaries between visual and applied art. She further developed her painterly experiments in fashion, fabric patterns, interior design, book and object art, merging geometric abstraction and the sculptural qualities of pure color.

The contributions that have been assembled in this volume present the story of queer lives - from the first emancipation movements around the turn of the (last) century via attempts at self-empowerment in the Weimar Republic to the destruction of queer subcultures under the National Socialist regime and the continued discrimination of LGBTIQ* persons in the postwar period. Since the late 19th century, increasing numbers of people have self-assuredly championed the recognition of queer lifestyles.

Dit is het harigste haarboek dat je ooit in handen hebt gehad. In dit boek zijn 150 kapsels, baarden en snorren verzameld.

Van het torenhoge suikerspinkapsel tot de hanenkam, de vetkuif en de afro. Van baarden die geschiedenis schreven tot snorren die de zwaartekracht trotseren. Natuurlijk leggen we ook haarfijn uit waar al die buitengewoon fascinerende haardrachten vandaan komen en wat ze betekenen. Het is onvoorstelbaar wat je allemaal met haar kunt doen. Haar leidt een eigen leven, en toch sparen we kosten noch moeite om het naar onze hand te zetten. Haar kan een bron van frustratie zijn, maar is in veel gevallen ook een teken van trots. Haar is veelzijdig, krachtig, hoogstpersoonlijk, magisch en ja, soms regelrecht kunst.

Dit originele haarlexicon is dan ook onmisbaar voor iedereen die zich weleens druk maakt om de vraag: zit mijn haar goed?

In 1972, the rock'n'roll messiah ZIGGY STARDUST was born. His provocative play on sexual identity and gender roles laid the foundation for David Bowie's ascent to becoming one of the most successful pop musicians of all time. Reinhard Kleist's STARMAN weaves the gripping tale of this outrageous character's genesis, rise, and fall, as well as of Bowie's hapless efforts in the London music scene before Ziggy's arrival, and of the struggles he experienced with his own creation at the height of his fame.

Er bestaan heel wat boeken over Claude Monet, ook kinderboeken en zelfs strips! Opmerkelijk genoeg eindigen die meestal met de protagonist die eindelijk van zijn geldzorgen verlost is en op zijn 42ste naar het dorpje Giverny verhuist. Over de laatste veertig gelukkige jaren van zijn leven komt de lezer zelden iets te weten; slechts een vervelende oogoperatie op zijn tachtigste komt nog weleens aan bod. Alsof enkel de miserie van kunstenaars interessant zou zijn!

The first collection of Makura Kurama's art. The world of Makura Kurama is full of darkness and beauty. The owners, guests, neighbors, and other characters that appear in the antique shop suffer from grief, fear, or pain in their minds. The gothic-style costumes and motifs, such as skeletons, dolls, corpses, taxidermy, natural specimens, and of course love, lends a dark, fantastical atmosphere to the stories. But these stories never become incurable tragedies.

his graphic novel follows Niki's extraordinary career, from her early "shooting pictures," in which she fired bullets at bags of paint, to the creation of the exuberantly formed life-sized dolls she called "Nanas," which established her as an international success. The book also looks at her close collaborations with her husband and fellow artist Jean Tinguely; her painting, drawing, assemblage, performance art, and large-scale installations; and her work in film, theater, and architecture.

A troubling drama about the tension between integrity and social advancement. Based on a true story, this moving and perceptive graphic novel perfectly conjures the oppressive atmosphere of wartime Germany, reflecting on the complicity that results from the choice, conscious or otherwise, to look away.

In the mid-1930s, Irmina, an ambitious young German, moves to London. At a cocktail party, she meets Howard Green, one of the first Black students at Oxford.

Deze gids dompelt u onder in het Brussel van het fin de siècle en loodst u langs een aantal markante gebouwen. Privwoningen, openbare gebouwen, monumenten. Allemaal opgetrokken in de toen revolutionaire art nouveau-stijl. En allemaal gebouwd door de architect die meer dan wie ook met art nouveau wordt vereenzelvigd: Victor Horta. Horta, die in 1861 in Gent werd geboren, verrichtte baanbrekend werk met zijn architectuur.

Denk aan de typische decoratieve vormen. Aan de experimentele indeling van de interieurs rond n centrale lichtschacht. Aan de niveaoverschillen, bijzondere raampartijen, trappenhuisen en wintertuinen. Denk aan al het metaal en glas, dat een wezenlijk onderdeel van de constructies uitmaakte. Dat was allemaal ongezien in die tijd. Horta haalde het licht naar binnen en creerde een ongekend ruimtegevoel in de burgerwoningen uit zijn tijd. Daarmee luidde hij een heel nieuw architecturaal tijdperk in.

De gids behandelt zijn gebouwen in chronologische volgorde: van het nog klassieke Huis Matyn over onder andere de huizen Solvay, Van Eetvelde en Tassel tot het Paleis voor Schone Kunsten.

Herontdek het inspirerende werk van de Belgische architect Léon Stynen (1899-1990). Teksten en onuitgegeven familiefoto's van een discrete reus met 990 projecten. Een nieuwe bevestiging van wat het modernisme is: een radicale wending die ons tijdperk tot op heden beïnvloedt.

Het casino van Knokke, het casino van Oostende, de paviljoenen van New York op Expo 38 en van Brussel op Expo 58, het BP-gebouw van Antwerpen, deSingel, eengezinswoningen, inrichtingen van passagiersschepen, bioscopen, meubilair dat vandaag nog wordt uitgegeven: allemaal voorbeelden van een emblematisch oeuvre, van een avant-garde die moeiteloos de tand des tijds doorstaat. Dit boek werpt een helder licht op de veelzijdigheid en de diepgaande invloed van Léon Stynen. De man, die Henry Van de Velde opvolgde als directeur van La Cambre, werkte samen met Le Corbusier, Camille Huysmans, Henry Van de Velde, Renaat Braem, René Guiette, Victor Bourgeois, Paul Delvaux, het CIAM, enzovoort. De uitzonderlijke documenten zijn afkomstig uit familiearchieven. Het werk is gepubliceerd in drie talen (NL/FR/EN).

Het beperkt oeuvre van de Gentse architect Gaston Eysselinck behoort tot de meest boeiende getuigenissen van een vernieuwende architectuur in België. Tijdens zijn studies aan de Gentse Academie komt hij in contact met publicaties van de Europese avant-garde, de Russische architectuur en het werk van Le Corbusier. Na een studiereis in 1927 en 1929 naar Nederland bouwt hij zijn eerste woningen waarin hij op een creatieve wijze de opgedane ervaring weet te assimileren. In november 1930 neemt hij deel aan het CIAM congres in Brussel en staat hij op de legendarische groepsfoto in aanwezigheid van Mies van der Rohe, Walter Gropius en Le Corbusier. Eveneens in 1930 maakt hij een reis naar Stuttgart, huwt en ontwerpt hij zijn woning met atelier. Deze woning is een gebouwd manifest van het "Nieuwe Bouwen". Samen met de woning Peeters in Deurne zijn het voorbeelden van het avant-garde architectuur in Europa. Voor zijn woning ontwerpt hij het meubilair waaronder verschillende buismeubelen.

1103 - ARCHITECTURE

An unprecedented survey of more than 250 architects who continue to define one of the most polarizing yet celebrated of styles. Brutalist architecture inspires a passionate response, be it adulation or contempt. There is no disputing, however, that the style produces some of the world's most breathtaking buildings. This landmark volume documents the movement as never before, by profiling the architects behind the style.

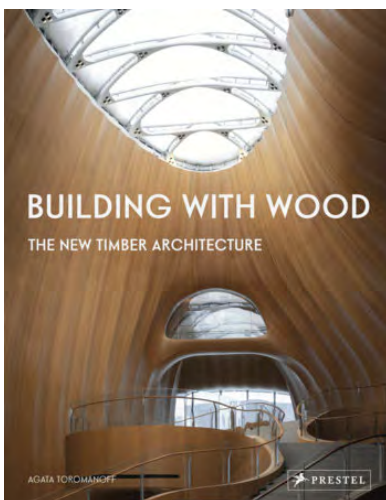

Featuring more than 250 historic and contemporary architects (organised alphabetically) along with specially selected examples of their work, this book includes international icons alongside those who are less well known or who have for too long been neglected, providing a unique record of this influential global architecture movement. The book includes 350 stunning images of more than 200 iconic Brutalist buildings, alongside fresh and surprising masterworks from 1936 to the present day, creating the ultimate companion to the Brutalist masters.

The Brutalists Brutalism's Best Architects

Featured architects include: John Andrews; João Batista Vilanova Artigas; Lina Bo Bardi; Bogdan Bogdanovic; Marcel Breuer; Douglas Cardinal; André-Jacques Dunoyer de Segonzac; Bertrand Goldberg; Erno Goldfinger; Jadwiga Grabowska-Hawrylak; Agustín Hernández Navarro; John M. Alejandro de la Sota probably arouses more impassioned responses in Spain than any other modern Spanish architect. His work is the subject of pilgrimages by architects and students looking for a unique way of working, an encounter with an almost magical revelation. Although he is a very well-known modern master in Spain, his is quite unknown abroad. This 2G issue presents a selection of building and projects of this forgotten modern master, from his first works to his master pieces...

Agrémentée d'une nouvelle introduction, Charlotte Perriand et l'aventure des Arcs est une reprise des parties consacrées à la montagne et aux Arcs de l'œuvre complète, volume 3 et 4. Dès 1934, Charlotte Perriand mène une réflexion architecturale sur les loisirs pour tous, mais c'est avec les Arcs, son grand œuvre, qu'elle mène à terme sa réflexion sur l'art d'habiter la montagne. Aux côtés du promoteur Roger Godino, Charlotte Perriand déploie toutes les facettes de son immense talent.

The Pastoor van Ars Church that was built in 1969 by Aldo van Eyck in The Hague is one of the few significant church buildings to emerge from the second half of the twentieth century. This book sheds light on the unique architectural and spatial qualities of the building. Although not a Catholic believer himself, Van Eyck made every effort to build an authentic and contemporary Catholic place of worship.

Edwin Lutyens, one of the most famous architectural names of the 20th century, died in 1944. As a memorial, three large volumes of his drawings and photographs were commissioned from the thousands found in his office, and were published by Country Life. All three volumes will be republished in 2023. The first volume contains his own plans, elevations and copious details of the finest examples of his domestic buildings, on which his huge reputation principally rests.

This illuminating book showcases 100 houses, from throughout the 20th century and stretching into the 21st, that represent the range of architectural styles throughout the years and show how housing has adapted to suit urban life.

Each house is accompanied by stunning photography and texts written by leading architectural critics and design historians.

From specially commissioned architect-designed houses for private individuals to housing built for increased workforces, each of the 100 houses brings a different design style or historical story. There are houses built as part of garden cities, semi-detached suburban dwellings, housing estates, eco-houses, almshouses, converted factories and affordable post-war homes.

The book also contains essays that explore the social and political aspects of housing design in Britain over the last 100 years, looking at the impact the world wars had on housing, exploring domestic technology and building materials and discovering how the modern house came about.

Discover lagom – the Swedish idea of balance, harmony, beauty and sufficiency.

Our love affair with all things Scandinavian shows no signs of letting up. Having embraced the Danish concept of hygge, we're now looking to Sweden and one of their essential philosophies, lagom. It's best described as 'not too much, not too little; just the right amount', which, in practice, is balance – and isn't that what we're all looking for?

From disco and glam to space age and psychedelic, there's no denying the huge impact the 70s had on style and design. But how do you bring the era's maximalism to your interior without it looking like a cluttered junk shop or a period pastiche? Part interiors guide, part manual for living, this loud-and-proud book will bring not only 70s colour and kitsch to the modern day, but also the rebellious spirit, pure joy and freewheeling energy epitomised by the era.

Dès les années 1950, ces dernières utilisent le graphisme et développent un langage associant des représentations symboliques pour mettre en avant des indices visuels qui signalent leur présence et leurs engagements envers un ensemble de principes, d'identités et de valeurs partagés. Ce langage visuel est marqué à la fois par la lutte et la célébration, par l'agitation et le compromis. Outil de résistance mais aussi de fierté, le graphisme LGBTQI promeut également une forme alternative de collectivité.

The greatest designer of French lighting, Robert Mathieu, is still little known to the general public today due to the rarity of his pieces on the market, highly sought after by specialized collectors. Unlike a traditional designer, Robert Mathieu not only designed his lights, but he made them, like an artist, in his studio on rue de Charenton in Paris. Here there is no publisher, but a dropper production close to that of a work of art, sometimes less than 8 copies.

Spices have, historically, been a tricky ingredient. They're prevalent in everyone's kitchens, but too often are underused, stored badly and kept years beyond their 'best before date'. There's the perceived alchemy of making a curry from scratch and the stringent marrying of certain spices to specific cuisines. This cookbook encourages liberal, creative and everyday use - a well-timed pinch to elevate a dish, with a focus on great taste rather than being tethered to tradition.

The library of the Miramare Castle reveals for the first time its treasure chest of books on botany, flowers, plants and gardens. The rich collection, steeped in the spirit of the nineteenth century, reflects in the living garden surrounding the castle. A creation at once natural, artificial and artistic, the garden of archduke Ferdinand Maximilian of Habsburg and his consort Charlotte of Belgium embodies an ideal of perfection, beauty and relationship with nature.

The Haribana style was created in May 2020 in the mid of the global pandemic. The material shortage forced floral designer Harijanto Setiawan to drastically rethink his design style and to come up with a fresh way to create high-quality and impactful designs using the least number of materials as possible. Haribana is Harijanto's own interpretation of 'some sort of Ikebana 'married with an architectural style and approach. This book contains 65 stunning Haribana pieces designed by the master himself.

Opposites Attract gebruikt het idee van 'tegenstelling' of 'contrast' als uitgangspunt. Vertrekend van een antoniemenpaar maken meer dan 150 internationale ikebanisten telkens inspirerende en confronterende schikkingen. De verschillende manieren waarop deze contrasten in natuurlijke materialen worden vertaald, getuigen niet alleen van de creativiteit en vindingrijkheid van de kunstenaars maar ook van de onuitputtelijke mogelijkheden van Ikebana.

II02 - GARDEN LANDSCAPE -
DESIGN

Throughout history great gardeners have risen from all walks of life. Some have been aristocratic amateur gardeners, others professional designers with an international practice. Some have come to garden-making from sister arts such as sculpture or painting; others have been hands-on nurserymen or botanists. What they all have in common is the ability to take an idea and develop it in a new manner relevant to their times. The book contains four sections.

The first comprehensive illustrated book on the Cyclades archipelago, which also includes the well-known islands of Santorini, Naxos, Paros and Mykonos. The islands are currently among the trendiest travel destinations in the world. There is no Hollywood or Instagram star who has not been photographed in front of the white cities of the Greek islands.

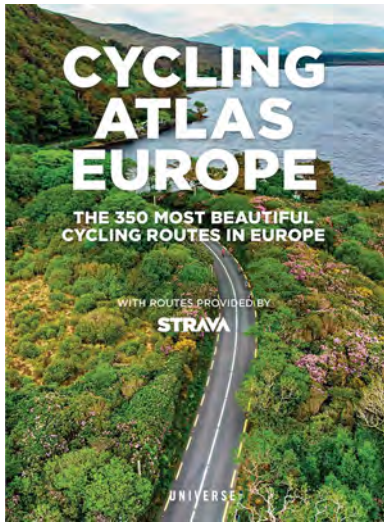

This illustrated book attempts to capture the islands' attitude to life in an undisguised way. Lonely bays and half-ruined towns stand next to the glossy world of the rich and famous who spend the summer on the islands. Highlife in summer next to almost deserted streets in winter. Greek tradition next to modern mass tourism.

In addition, each individual island has its own exciting peculiarities that are worth discovering. The volume also portrays in pictures and text local Greeks who pursue an exciting profession: The last fishermen of the island, the priest of a mountain church on Naxos, the last local beekeeper,

For the first time, a catalogue focus on the theme of bicycle design with 70 spectacular bicycles. In bicycles, design and technology are increasingly meld, as is particularly evident in the frame and its materials, but also in the drive system used, the suspension and the wheels. The highlights of bicycle design from 1817 to the present day can be traced on the basis of numerous detailed photographs. The spectrum extends from handmade frames or industrial mass production to bicycles made with a 3D printer.

More of us than ever are re-evaluating how and where we live, eschewing disposable culture for a simpler life. Living Wild tells the stories of people around the world who have made the leap into the unknown, offering an intimate glimpse into what it means to live closer to nature.

This will be inspirational reading for anyone who aspires to reset the batteries and live more sustainably. The impact of climate change and the pressures of city life – not to mention the life-changing events of the last two years – have left many of us dreaming of a simpler existence that benefits the environment and resets the mind.

The lifting of restrictions, including travel, has meant that more of us than ever are re-evaluating how and where we live, eschewing disposable culture in favour of a more meaningful and sustainable way of life. From a family who relocated to the remote Australian Outback to a young couple who live and work on a narrowboat, plying the waters of the Worcester and Birmingham Canal in the UK, Living Wild tells the stories of people around the world who have made the leap into the unknown, exploring what inspired them and how the move has impacted upon their families and livelihoods.

The essential exploration of the design, history, and culture of the motorcycle - an icon of the machine age.

Motorcycles are ubiquitous in the world's streets and cities, evolving over decades in engineering and design to meet individual transportation needs. With the coming demise of the internal combustion engine and the rise of electric-powered vehicles, motorcycle design is being revolutionized by new technologies, the demands of climate change, and global social transformation.

Finally, the unwritten rules of Dadhood have been written in Dad Law. Since the dawn of time, all dads have understood that there are a set of rules for fathers-both old and new alike-that guide them to gleefully repeat terrible puns as well as to hone the perfect deadpan joke delivery. This handsome tome collects all of the governing laws of fatherhood, covering a vast array of conceivable situations ranging from fashion to tech to simply being a dad in public.

THE LEGEND OF THE OPE

Polynesian legends are a treasure trove of stories that have been passed down through generations. One such legend is the story of the Ope, a powerful sorcerer who lived in the mountains of Hawaii. The Ope was known for his magical powers and his ability to control the elements of nature. One day, the Ope was challenged by a young woman who was determined to prove her worth. The Ope agreed to a contest, and the two fought a fierce battle. In the end, the young woman emerged victorious, and the Ope was forced to reveal his secrets to her. This legend is a testament to the power of women in Polynesian culture and the importance of magic and sorcery.

THE LEGEND OF MĀTA
HER ADVENTURES WITH AN
ENCHANTED TREE AND REVENGE
OF HER FATHER'S MURDER

Before the dawn of time, there was a great war between the gods and the mortals. The gods were victorious, and the mortals were driven to the earth. One of the mortals was a young woman named Māta. She was a powerful sorcerer and was known for her magical powers. One day, Māta was challenged by a young man who was determined to prove his worth. Māta agreed to a contest, and the two fought a fierce battle. In the end, Māta emerged victorious, and the young man was forced to reveal his secrets to her. This legend is a testament to the power of women in Polynesian culture and the importance of magic and sorcery.

Explore the enchanting world of Polynesian folklore in this beautiful illustrated collection. A woman falls in love with the king of the sharks. Two powerful sorcerers compete in a battle of magical wits. The king of Maui's fastest messenger races to bring a young woman back from the dead. In these traditional stories, the borders blur between life and death, reality and magic, and land and sea. You'll encounter awe-inspiring warriors, tricky magicians, and fearsome creatures of the deep.

The heroes and villains of Norse mythology have endured for centuries, infiltrating art, opera, film, television and books, shape-shifting - like the trickster Loki - to suit the cultures that encountered them. Through careful analysis of the literature and archaeology of the Norse world, Carolyne Larrington takes us deep into the realm described in the Icelandic sagas, from the gloomy halls of Hel to the dazzling heights of Asgard.

As far back as we go in human history, we find therianthropes, or animal-human hybrids. In this thoughtful volume, Philip F. Palmedo surveys each of the major categories of therianthrope in turn - from animal-headed beings to merpeople to shape-shifters - with particular attention to their roles in religion, folklore, and the popular consciousness. With well-chosen colour illustrations, he demonstrates how artists of all eras have shaped our conception of these mythical beings.

Most of what we say about books is really about the words inside them: the rosy nostalgic glow for childhood reading, the lifetime companionship of a much-loved novel. But books are things as well as words, objects in our lives as well as worlds in our heads. And just as we crack their spines, loosen their leaves and write in their margins, so they disrupt and disorder us in turn. All books are, as Stephen King put it, 'a uniquely portable magic'. Here, Emma Smith shows us why.

Reef Dream:
A Flow State Jigsaw Puzzle

Illustrated by Elin Svensson

We all know flow, even if we don't yet know what to call it: that blissful state of absorption, when you're so engaged with what you're doing that you don't notice the time passing. Psychologists now know that this still, almost meditative, state, brings us a host of mental health benefits: balance, tranquility, and less stress. Jigsaw puzzling is an easy way to find this state, which is one of the reasons that they have boomed so dramatically in recent years.

Clash of the 90s

The Raddest decade in a Game

Niki Fisher

While we already know that the 90s was the coolest decade in recorded human history, what was the pinnacle of culture in the era of CD-ROMs and Pogs, The Fresh Prince and butterfly clips? Clash of the 90s is here to decide. The flip phone or the Nintendo 64? The Spice Girls or Britney Spears? Home Alone or the Tamagotchi? What was the raddest, the most influential? Which changed the course of human history? Battle these icons to pick a victor. To play, deal all the cards equally, and no peeking!

Wonderland Playing Cards

William Penhallow Henderson

When the day becomes the night and the sky becomes the sea, it's time to shuffle these cards together and deal them around the tea table. This deck is a standard poker set, with the four classic suits. Each celebrates Lewis' iconic characters, featuring William Penhallow Henderson's illustrations for a 1915 Chicago stage production of Alice in Wonderland. The Cheshire cat is spades; The White Rabbit represent clubs; Alice is diamonds; but beware the Queen of Hearts. Her suit will take your head.

Hieronymus Bosch Tarot 78 Cards and 112-page Guidebook

by Travis McHenry

Although Hieronymus Bosch has a reputation as a brilliant madman, in his time, he was regarded as a master of art. His unique dreamlike style led him to be crowned the first surrealist, in a period where the artistic consensus was one of realism. Renowned occultist and bestselling author, Travis McHenry, has painstakingly isolated scenes and characters from Bosch's most famous paintings to create singular images that convey mystical meaning

Somewhere far away, a beautiful princess called Tourmaline is imprisoned in a tall tower. Only the bravest knight of all can free her. Knight after knight is sure that he's the bravest, but they all fail in their quest. They get tangled up in the forest, lose their way in a cornfield, don't want to get their cloak dirty, become distracted or their horse lets them down. Luckily there's one fearless knight who doesn't let anything daunt them. A delightfully playful, strikingly illustrated fairy tale.
