RISE AND FALL: GREAT EMPIRES THAT SHAPED THE WORLD

PETER ALLEN

What makes a society successful, what allows it to last thousands of years and what causes its eventual downfall? In this volatile world that we live in, there are many fascinating lessons to be learned from the great empires that once ruled it.

Rise and Fall brings a collection of ten world civilisations to life. Some, like the Vikings and the Incans, you may have heard of. Others, like Benin, Kakamura or Ayutthaya are less well known today but in their time were seemingly undefeatable.

Peter Allen, author of Atlas of Amazing Architecture (Cicada, 2021), illuminates the stories with his trademark detail- and humour-packed illustrations, taking young readers on a captivating journey through time to uncover the essence of human civilisation.

An excavation of ten world civilisations;
their rise, their decline and their legacies.

THE EGG INCIDENT

ZIGGY HANAOR AND DAISY WYNTER

This middle-grade graphic novel tells the story of Humphrey – an egg with very overprotective parents; “Never run, never jump and NEVER EVER EVER sit on a wall. You remember what happened to your uncle...”

Humphrey lives a cautious life, until the day he bumps into Princess Jean (PJ) in the park. An adventurer through and through, PJ regales Humphrey with tales of all her antics and mishaps and they don't notice the park is closing. Oh no! How will Humphrey get home? There's only one way out. Over. The. Wall!

The Egg Incident is a joyous reversal of the traditional Humpty Dumpty tale of caution that will delight readers aged 7-11 who are tiptoeing towards independence themselves.

Remember, Humphrey, never run, never jump, and NEVER EVER sit on a wall!

ALL ABOUT FLAGS
ROBIN JACOBS AND BEN JAVENS

Do you know why the Union Jack is asymmetrical? Or what the meaning is behind the black stars on many African flags? Well maybe it's time to find out!

This is a gorgeous, accessible atlas of flags around the world. It is packed with fascinating flag facts clearly arranged by Robin Jacobs and joyously presented by illustrator Ben Javens.

The flags are grouped by continent and then by theme, creating a coherent historical narrative that serves as a great launch point for discussions around identity, geography and nation building.

A refreshingly engaging introduction to flags of the world and the stories they tell.

Robin Jacobs is a children's TV and book writer living outside Bristol. A passionate environmentalist, Robin is the author of Earth Shattering Events and The Mellons Build a House.

STONES AND BONES: FOSSILS AND THE STORIES THEY TELL
ROB WILSHAW AND SOPHIE WILLIAMS

This book looks at the fossil record and all that we can learn from it. From bacteria to sponges to fish to tetrapods to reptiles to dinosaurs to mammals and finally to humans, it excavates the story of four billion years of life on this planet. The science of paleontology is clearly broken down by fossil expert, Rob Wilshaw, and easily understood by children as young as six.

Sophie Williams' warm, engaging illustrations bring the fascinating texts to life. Following on from the success of Earth-Shattering Events, this is a lively and vital book that will delight not just dinosaur enthusiasts but anyone interested in evolution and the incredible history of this very special planet that we inhabit.

Excavating four billion years of history from the ground beneath our feet!

Sophie Williams is a Cornish illustrator with a bright, informative style that is inspired by illustrators such as Nick Sharratt and Gemma Correll. She is the author of Map of You (Cicada, 2021) and the illustrator of Earth-Shattering Events (Cicada, 2019).

Rob Wilshaw studied geology at the University of Southampton, graduating in 2018 with a masters degree focussing on how microfossils might predict future impacts of climate change. This is his first book.

THE GRAND HOTEL OF FEELINGS

LIDIA BRANKOVIC

Welcome to the Grand Hotel of Feelings, where all kinds of feelings come and stay. Every guest has unique needs. Anger, for example, is very loud and needs plenty of space to scream and shout. Sadness speaks in a small voice and occasionally floods the bathroom. Gratitude likes wandering about in nature; you never know when she might come and sit by your side.

Some feelings are big and some are small, some are fun and some are tricky, but all feelings must be listened to and acknowledged. After all, they're just passing through.

A beautiful and imaginative title that brings the complexities of emotional management to life with warmth, humour and a touch of Wes Anderson.

An accessible entry into discussions on the complexity of feelings, this picture book will be returned to time and time again.

THE MELLONS BUILD A HOUSE

ROBIN JACOBS AND NIK NEVES

The Mellon family have outgrown their flat. It's time to move, but none of the houses they look at are quite right, so they decide to build their own house. Masha is an architect. She designs a house that accommodates the Mellons' needs, their budget, and most importantly, the environment. It is an eco-house.

The Mellons Build a House is a hugely enjoyable picturebook that takes the reader step-by-step through house design and build. Heat pumps, solar panels, insulation and rainwater harvesting are all clearly explained, and brought to life in Nik Neves's warm, inclusive illustrations. A timely and essential read for aspiring young architects and construction enthusiasts.

A cleverly architected book... perfect for children exploring the environment or anything to do with construction.

MAMA MAMMALS: REPRODUCTION AND BIRTH IN MAMMALS

CATHY EVANS AND BIA MELO

This beautifully presented science book explains the facts of life by looking at reproduction and birth in mammal species. Through short, concise texts and warm, engaging illustrations, we learn about fertilisation, gestation, birth, breastfeeding and early parenting across the mammalian order. Did you know that, unlike other mammals, whale calves are born tail first, so that the mother can push them to the surface to breathe as soon as they emerge? Or that echidnas do not have nipples? Their young lick milk that seeps from pores in their chests.

Easily understood by kids as young as four, this is an informative and enjoyable way of learning about babies and where they come from.

Forget the birds and the bees, let's learn about how mammals make babies and look after them!

Cathy Evans is a vet and a writer living in Bournemouth, with two boys and a menagerie of animals. She is the author of Cat Eyes and Dog Whistles (Cicada, 2021).

Bia Melo is a recent graduate of the CSACBI children's book illustration programme. Her degree projects were highly commended for The Macmillan Prize and selected for the Golden Pinwheel Young Illustrators Awards and the dPICTUS showcase at Bologna Book Fair.

FORWARDS ALWAYS: POEMS TO BE READ ALOUD

MATTHEW HODSON

*I'm having jelly for tea
I'm having jelly for tea
It's not even my birthday
But I'm having jelly for tea*

Forwards Always is a collection of poems to be read aloud. The poems are activated through performance and play. There are daft poems, quiet poems, wonky poems and dancing poems.

The book is a puzzle. Make sense of it together, listen to it, take turns, hold it upside down and wear it as a hat. Have fun and find your own way forwards.

A delightful and idiosyncratic collection.

ARE WE THERE YET? SVEN VOLKER

Bear wakes up after his long winter's sleep and joins his friend, Butterfly, on a journey. 'Where are we going?' asks Bear. 'All journeys have secret destinations', says Butterfly. As they travel through forest, over hill and across a great river, Butterfly offers her wisdom about hardships, facing one's fears and living in the moment. Bear's natural impatience gradually softens into acceptance of the world around him.

As the seasons change, the friends find themselves once more in front of Bear's cave. Landscapes look different with different eyes and the end of one journey is the beginning of another.

This is a heartwarming book about friendship and about circles and cycles of life and being. It is a sweet and calming bedtime story that introduces Buddhist philosophies and values to young readers.

A sensitive script, touches of humor, and a captivating design combine for an excursion readers will want to repeat.

GORY RORY FANGFACE NEEDS A KISS ZIGGY HANAOR AND OLLIE SILVESTER

Gory Rory Fangface is having a terrible day and everything is going wrong. First, he ran out of cereal and then his favourite jumper was in the wash and then it rained on the way to school. Does Gory Rory need a kiss? No, he most certainly DOESN'T.

The day gets progressively worse; he's forgotten his homework, it's egg salad for lunch, and then mum is late for pick-up. A kiss perhaps? NO WAY. On the way home it rains again, there's homework to finish and the internet is down. Gory Rory has reached the end of his tether – it really has been the WORST DAY EVER. But sometimes... just sometimes... when you really really need them... kisses can make it all better.

A heartwarming story about the power of affection to lighten up even the darkest of days.

Gory Rory is having a TERRIBLE day, and the LAST thing he needs is a KISS.

PROFESSOR WOOFORD MCPAW'S HISTORY OF ASTRONOMY

ELLIOT KRUSZYNSKI

The second book in the Wooford McPaw series takes on the entirety of the cosmos and everything within it. In his distinctively humorous, subversive tone, Elliot Kruszynski looks at how our understanding of our place within the universe has evolved from the days of Ancient Greece, to the discoveries of Copernicus and Galileo, through to Newton and then to Einstein and Hawking.

CAT EYES AND DOG WHISTLES: THE SEVEN SENSES OF HUMANS AND OTHER ANIMALS

CATHY EVANS AND BECKY THORNS

This book takes young readers step by step through the biology of the human sensory organs and then compares them to those of the animal kingdom. Did you know that, unlike the other senses, smells are delivered directly to the parts of our brain that are responsible for memory and emotion? Or that a cow has about 250,000 tastebuds, compared to a mere 30 of a chicken?

Beautifully presented, this book will get kids thinking about all the amazing things their bodies can do.

With striking, colorful illustrations and interesting factoids, it provides a fine introduction to the senses.

ALEX AND ALEX

ZIGGY HANAOR AND BEN JAVENS

Alex and Alex have lots of things in common. They love playing and dressing up. They are also very different to one another; Alex is very messy and Alex is very tidy. After a trip to the museum goes a little bit awry, Alex and Alex have some cooling off time. But they always make up, because Alex really ,really, really, really, likes Alex!

This book is entirely gender neutral, and is a great book with which to challenge binary identities at the developmental stage at which they are taking root.

A simple yet inclusive story that is likely to build tolerance, insight, and healthy relationships among young readers.

THE NEW BABY: AN ACTIVITY BOOK
LIE DIRKX

Introducing a young child to the idea of a new sibling can be tricky to get right. This book offers parents a new way of starting a conversation with their child about the baby developing in mummy's tummy. By doodling, colouring in and engaging with the activities, the older sibling is invited to think and talk about themselves, and in doing so, to think about what life might be like when the new baby arrives.

An adorable activity paperback to help children make sense of what it means to become a sibling.

EARTH-SHATTERING EVENTS: VOLCANOES, EARTHQUAKES, CYCLONES, TSUNAMIS AND OTHER NATURAL DISASTERS
ROBIN JACOBS AND SOPHIE WILLIAMS

We humans take our domination of the planet for granted, but sometimes the Earth reminds us that this is an illusion. Great waves sweep away entire towns, tectonic plates shift, causing cities to crumble, and volcanoes cover swathes of land in molten rock.

This book explores nature at its most dramatic and its most destructive. Clear, coherent explanations of phenomena including hurricanes, tornadoes, avalanches, tsunamis and volcanoes are brought to life in fun, accessible hand-drawn illustrations by Sophie Williams.

UNDERGROUND: SUBWAY SYSTEMS AROUND THE WORLD
UIJUNG KIM

A playful search-and-find book of 10 underground systems around the world. Alternating shortened pages create an inside-outside effect, so that you 'enter' the train to find the cultural signifiers of each city; a pretzel, an apple and the Empire State Building on the New York Subway, for example.

Korean illustrator Uijung Kim's busy, colourful illustrations are joyously contemporary, appealing to train-obsessed children as well as a wider audience.

A fab little book this, and another brilliant title in Cicada's increasingly essential early years non-fiction range.

GUT GARDEN: A JOURNEY INTO THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF YOUR MICROBIOME
KATIE BROSNAN

Within our bodies hides an entire world of microbes that digest our food and protect our immune systems. Scientists are only now discovering the links between our microbiome and health issues ranging from allergies to multiple sclerosis. Through Katie Brosnan's personable illustrations, we follow the digestive process, learning about the role of microbes at every step of the way.

An engaging and beautiful introduction to a fascinating frontier of science.

Effectively makes the case that we are all biological boardinghouses... plenty to chew on here.

978-1-908714-98-5 / Paperback / £6.99 / $8.99 / 36pp / 28x21 cm / RS: China, Korea, France, Russian, Polish

A beautiful search-and-find book in which detailed watercolour landscapes of various environments (rainforest, desert, etc) harbour within them numbats, snow leopards and mountain gorillas. A great way to get a young audience to engage with environmental issues.

SPECIAL DELIVERY
ELLIOT KRUSZYNSKI

978-1-908714-79-4 / Hardcover / $11.99 / 32pp / 214x263 mm / April 2020 / RS: Korea, Netherlands

Today is a very special day. Little Duck is expecting the arrival of her new baby brother! But Delivery Dude keeps bringing the wrong babies. First a baby mouse, then a kitten, a puppy, a hippo and an elephant. An uproarious take on the anxiety and anticipation that precedes the arrival of a new baby.

GRANDMA'S HOUSE OF RULES
HENRY BLACKSHAW

978-1-908714-93-0 / Hardcover / £11.95 / $16.99 / 32pp / 21x27cm

Grandma is great, but boy does she have a lot of rules. Don't jump on the bed, or leave the loo seat up or put your elbows on the table... but most of all, DON'T touch the big blue and white vase!

But some rules... and vases... were just made for breaking...

PIPPIN PAINTS A PORTRAIT
CHARLOTTE MEI

978-1-80066-014-4 / 214x263mm / 36pp / Hardcover / £11.99 / $16.99 / RS: Korea, China, Vietnam, Taiwan, France, Spain

Pippin is painting a self-portrait, but his friends think he's got a lot to learn about artistic styles. Pippin is feeling deflated, but with a little help, he digs deep and finds the artist within. A refreshingly anarchic laugh-out-loud introduction to the art world.

THE YOUNG CYCLIST'S COMPANION
PETER DRINKELL

978-1-908714-96-1 / Hardcover / £12.99 / $17.99 / 72pp / 176x230 mm / rs: Greece

Aimed at young cyclists who are looking to learn more about bikes, this practical but striking guide explains all the basics; from maintenance to technique to group riding. Alongside, is a cornucopia of fascinating facts and trivia to intrigue and inspire.

THE PROBLEM WITH PIERRE
C K SMOUHA / SUZANNA HUBBARD

978-1-908714-85-5 / Hardcover / £11.99 / $16.99 / 36pp / 24x27cm

Alan and Bertram are next-door neighbours who are nothing alike. Bertram is neat as a pin and Alan is wildly messy. Their efforts to appease a very fussy cat called Pierre result in each one making a few compromises, allowing walls to come down literally and metaphorically!

WOWEE ZOWEE: A TRAVEL ACTIVITY BOOK
JURG LINDENBERGER

978-1-80066-010-6 / Paperback / 40pp / 220x285 mm / £8.99 / $12.99

A delightfully silly travel activity book. Hop on board and visit a host of weird worlds and peculiar planets. Design some ski-wear and peculiar planets. Design some ski-wear and think up a menu for the beach bar on Lazy Isle! No passports required – the only limits are your own imagination!

SCRUFF
ALICE BOWSHER

978-1-908714-78-7 / Hardcover / £9.95 / $14.95 / 32pp / 225x207 mm / RS: Korea

Scruff doesn't want to catch sticks... or roll in the mud or swim in the pond. What could be the problem? It turns out Scruff just loves being pampered! So Scruff and his owner wash, polish and groom together, until they are anything but scruffy. A lovely book for early readers with a playful twist on the dangers of judging by appearance.

A SCENE IN BETWEEN (REVISED EDITION) SAM KNEE

This cult music/fashion title sets out to excavate the sartorial and sonic treasures of the 1980's independent guitar scenes in the UK. Original archive photography from scenesters, band members and amateur photographers creates an authentic journey through the subcultures of a fractious decade, resonating with the youth of today.

This revised edition features new interviews with Johnny Marr of The Smiths and Deb Googe of MBV as well as hundreds of new photographs capturing the scene(s) in all their glory.

A SCENE IN BETWEEN USA SAM KNEE

A new addition to Sam Knee's Scene In Between odyssey, this title explores the musical and sartorial treasures of the American 1980s guitar-based indie scenes. Journeying coast to coast, it covers everything from college rock to noise rock by way of the paisley underground, ending in 1989 with the nascent grunge scene in Seattle.

Original archive photography from scenesters and band members capture the sounds of styles of bands including Faith, Rites of Spring, Dinosaur Jr, Galaxie 500, Beat Happening, and early Nirvana. Interviews by J Mascis, Tobi Vail and Rik Menck make this an essential resource for any fashion or music enthusiast.
