A hilarious collection celebrating our sweet – and slightly crazy – obsession with cats

How to tell if this book is for you: * Do you cross the street to pat a cat? * Do people always tag you in cat pictures on social media * Do you wish you were holding a cat right now and not this book? Then this book might just be for you!

Discover the hidden benefit of having a cat sit on your lap, and what your cat is thinking when it gives you that look of disdain. This is the ultimate book for all cats and cat lovers: the extreme cat lover, the digital cat lover, and even the cat lover trapped inside a dog lover's body.

Anna Blandford has been obsessed with cats since she was a child. At one stage in the late '80s she had four pet cats: Bootsy, Smudge, Clidey and Bonnie! Anna co-owns greeting card and giftware business Able and Game.

- 58 pages of funny and insightful illustrations for the cat-lover in your life
- Includes a guide to various cat modes (such as unsatisfied or aggressively affectionate), cat communication, types of cat lovers and where to go when you're a cat lover, cats in popular culture, food for cats and cat diets, and more!
